Thief Gets $489 At Heights Store

Police searched today for a sneak thief who stole $489 in cash and checks from a Lisbon St. grocery Saturday afternoon and burglars who forced open four coin-operated machines earlier in a downtown tavern.

The theft took place at Clark's Grocery at Lisbon St. and Spring Grove Ave. between noon and 8:10 p.m. Saturday, officers said.

Mrs. Edna Clark, the proprietor, told officers an unknown person entered the store while she was in the back room and stole a strongbox from underneath the counter.

The loss included $345 in checks, $120 in currency, $20 in change and four silver dollars, she said. The box also contained insurance papers, tax returns and a small collection of old money, Mrs. Clark said.

The burglary at Sandy's Tavern, 639 St. Clair Ave., was timed between 4:30 and 8:45 a.m. Saturday. The tavern is operated by Joseph Perrin, 1305 Smithfield St., officers said.

The intruders forced open and rifled a cigarette machine, a bumper pool machine, a bowling machine and a music box, officers said. All the machines are owned by Hune, Inc., officers said.

About $23 in either money or cigarettes was removed from the cigarette machine, while the loss from the other devices was estimated at $10, police reported. A glass jar containing $13 in bent coins was removed from a shelf on the back bar, police said.

A screw driver and a tire tool were used to force open the front door of the tavern, police said. The burglary was discovered at 8:45 by Richard Perrin, 19, son of the owner, when he arrived to clean the premises, officers said.

Officers said an unsuccessful attempt also was made to force

Baldasare Swims Straits Despite Current, Sharks

Fred Baldasare of Cocoa, Fla., a native of Wellsville, was hailed as a hero today throughout southern Italy after he dared treacherous currents and sharks Saturday to swim across the hazardous Straits of Messina under water.

A former paratrooper and a veteran long - distance swimmer, Baldasare made the unprecedented three-mile crossing in skin diver's gear in 3 hours and 42 minutes. The crossing marked his 38th birthday.

Baldasare was born in Wellsville, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Baldasare, who now reside in Cocoa, Fla. When he was a child, the family moved to Corona, Long Island. He is a cousin of Fred Baladsare, Wellsville safety-service director, and a relative of several other Wellsville residents.

Baldasare actually swam more than three miles, as the strong currents kept pushing him northward. He crossed from Capo Del Foro Lighthouse Cape on the northeast tip of Sicily to the village of Scylla, on the Italian mainland north of Reggio Calabria.

His arrival at Scylla was about half a mile farther north than his original target of Punte Pezzo. No sharks appeared during his crossing, but the menace of the marine killers always was present.

A banner stretched across one of the boats following him read: "Good Luck With The Sharks."

The record for a surface swim across the strait is 52 minutes 27 seconds, set by Pippo Dominici, an Italian, in 1930. Dominici was

3 Princes Approve Cabinet In Laos As Step To Coalition

Signing Set Tuesday In Agreement

West Hopes Move Will Change Role As Cold War Pawn

KHANG KHAY, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma announced today that Laos' three rival princes have reached agreement on a list of cabinet members of the coalition government he is to head.

The announcement was made by Souvanna after a meeting of an hour with pro-Communist Prince Souphanouvong and royalist Premier Prince Boun Oum.

Immediately after the annoucement, the three princes signed the Cabinet list. Souvanna, however, said the three will meet again Tuesday to sign a formal agreement on formation of the coalition.

Souvanna said he hopes to take his ministers to Luang Prabang, the royal capital, by next Monday to present them to King Savang Vathana.

The question of who would get the armed forces and police ministries had been one of the toughest points blocking an agreement. The royalist government had expressed fear that turning these posts over to the Communists would mean seizure of power through a takeover of the ministries.

Under today's agreement, Souvanna will be premier, defense minister and veterans and social affairs minister.

The Interior Ministry office went to one of Souvanna's close associates, Pheng Phongsavan, who will also be social welfare minister.

Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, strong man of the Vientiane royalist regime, and Souphanouvong will be deputy premiers. In addition, Phoumi will be finance minister, and Souphanouvong will hold the economy and planning portfolio.

The coalition Cabinet comprises seven representatives from Souvanna's neutralists, four from the royalist group in Vientiane, four

Decline Seen In Algerian SAO Attacks

ALGIERS (AP) — Secret Army Organization commandos struck in a Sahara oil field Sunday in their scorched earth warfare but a Moslem nationalist leader said the terrorist fire power is fading.

Terrorist saboteurs blasted a well being drilled in the Sahara, about 60 miles south of the big Hassi Messaoud oil field, and set off a spectacular gas fire.

French officials expressed fears that the secret army, whose hard core now is believed to be largely French army deserters, would attempt to blow up dams, railroads and oil installations in their campaign to leave the country in ruins for the future Moslem rulers.

Chawki Mostefai, a spokesman for the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN), told newsmen Algeria's Europeans were turning against the secret army fanatics. "It would not be rash to foresee a halt in the present events," he said.

Premier Youssef Ben Khedda of the Algerian provisional government was reported preparing a "solemn declaration" directed at the million European settlers on their role in the new Algeria.

"We believe that this declaration will satisfy everyone," said Mostefai. He declined to go into details.

Brakes Believed Rail Crash Cause

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — Investigators are looking into the possibility that the air brakes of a Northern Pacific luxury train failed on a mountain curve Sunday, sending 15 cars plunging down a 100-foot embankment.

A child was killed and 219 of the train's 350 passengers were injured. Sixty-eight of the passengers were held overnight in Missoula hospitals for further treatment and observation. The others were treated and released. The train was en route from Seattle to Chicago and many aboard were returning home from the World's Fair.

Reports from passengers and train personnel suggested the train was exceeding the 35 mile-an-hour speed limit on the steep curve, 15 miles northwest of here.

The train's speed recorder tape will be given to Interstate Commerce Commission investigators, either at Missoula or Washington, D.C., a Northern Pacific official said at St. Paul, Minn. He wouldn't divulge what the recorder showed, except to say the speed was a "good deal slower" than 100 m.p.h.

Only two of the 17 cars remained on the rails in the dawn derailment, which may cost the railroad $1 million.

The other 15 cars of the Seattle-to-Chicago North Coast Limited carrying many visitors home from the world's fair, catapulted down a 100-foot embankment 15 miles northwest of Missoula.

Two of the olive-green passenger cars plunged all the way to the bottom, coming to rest in a ditch along U.S. Highway 93 and 10A.

The nose of one car smashed deep into the ditch, scooping up mud that buried Terese Ann Dooms of Ekalaka, Mont. Terese, who would have been 3 June 30,

Bishop Orders Move

Catholic Schools Slated To Integrate In Atlanta

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church has ordered Atlanta archdiocesan schools desegregated this fall in a move supported by leading Catholic laymen and the mayor of Atlanta.

The historic decision applied to Catholic schools in the 71 north Georgia counties of the archdiocese where about 7,500 pupils are enrolled. The total includes 735 negroes, all in Atlanta.

Archbishop Paul J. Hallinan said it was up to local bishops elsewhere, in the archdiocesan province to decide what action to take in their areas. That included other sections of Georgia as well as North and South Carolina and Florida, all under the archbishop's titular control.

The desegregation decision was announced in a pastoral letter read during Sunday services in all the churches of the north Georgia archdiocese.

"Catholic children, regardless of race or color, will be admitted to Catholic schools of the archdiocese as of Sept. 1, 1962," the letter said.

"I think it is something long overdue," commented Catholic layman G. Albert Lawton, president of Georgia International Life Insurance Co., who moved to Atlanta from Connecticut three years ago. His two children attend Catholic schools in Rhode Island and New York.

MADRID (AP) — Hundreds of opponents of Generalissimo Francisco Franco's dictatorship have been reported arrested in a sweeping roundup of dissidents of all political shades.

Five leading monarchists were caught in the dragnet as they returned from a meeting of Spanish oppositionists in Munich, Germany. Three of them refused an offer of exile and were flown today to forced residence in the Canary Islands. Two went into exile in Paris.

Those flown to Fuerte Ventura, second largest of the Canaries, were Joaquin de Satrustegui, an executive of the Spanish affiliate of the American-owned Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.; Fernando Alvarez de Miranda, 40, nephew of the Marquis of Valdivia and a Madrid city employe, and Jaime Miralles, member of a prominent old family.

Families of the three men said they were not allowed to visit them or speak to them after they were arrested during the weekend. Under a new decree they can be kept in forced residence for

Fire Releases Fumes In Downtown Building

Firemen continued to seek the cause of a fire which broke out in the service shop of the Sears Roebuck & Co. in Diamond Alley about mid-morning and released what Chief Charles Bryan termed poisonous fumes.

Chief Bryan said they were unable to determine the cause but want to question the store's appliance repairman, the last one in the shop before the fire was discovered at 10 a. m.

The chief said firemen discovered freon 22, a gas used in refrigeration systems, was leaking from a bank which was delivered Saturday. The gas is nonpoisonous but becomes poisonous when mixed with heat, he said. Firemen had to use oxygen masks to enter the smoke-filled rooms and broke some small windows in the alley to allow the smoke and heat to escape.

A Dependable Newspaper Serving the Tri-State District

The Cost Of Learning

Additions are being constructed at Beaver Local schools, another is about to start at the Public School and Southern Local is approaching the construction stage of a new high school near Salineville.

Lisbon plans to have an addition at McKinley School ready for fall; East Palestine is nearing completion of its $650,000 school improvement project; Stanton Local is due to use its new $1.5 million facilities, and Hancock County is soon to start work on a $5.25 million system.

These undertakings, as well as others in the district, point up not only the tremendous cost of the "brick-and-mortar" phase of education, but underline the constant demand for keeping school programs apace with growing population needs and changes in educational methods.

Residents of these districts, as well as those in East Liverpool who have in the past put sizable sums into the schools, recognize in the matter of school financing the same problems of keeping a home — there can be no slackening of investment in your house or your family's future.

Money spent on classrooms and books and teachers is money put in trust for your community and your children. The dividends come on graduation day and when your city's rate of progress and civic attitude leave little to be desired.

Let's Spruce Up The Shoreline

Boating enthusiasts were out in force Sunday as they took advantage of the waters of the "Beautiful Ohio".

Each year the facilities increase in number along the river's banks and each year the Ohio's value as a recreational center is brought home more forcefully.

The recreational aspects should be recognized at all times along with the industrial. The Ohio is a tourist attraction worth exploiting to the fullest.

When one sees the boaters out invariably thoughts turn to the need for a general beautification program along the river's banks. Unattractive shorelines can detract greatly from the over-all natural beauty of the water.

There are things that could be done from time to time — trimming of the trees, permanent - type benches, grassing of the slopes, flower beds, etc.

The "Beautiful Ohio" deserves an equally beautiful shoreline.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew? I'm not sure I can handle this in writing, but let me try. It would go better over a couple bottles of soda pop, face-to-face, catch-as-catch-can.

You wondered in your letter how we could keep people from being led down the garden path by fools, charlatans, wrong-headed politicos and hard-hearted betrayers. You despaired of keeping this from happening and quoted the old chestnut about people liking to be fooled.

I object.

If Phineas T. Barnum ever actually said people like to be fooled, he was referring to show business, not public business. He had in mind his own fooleries — but remember that Tom Thumb, Jenny Lind and Jumbo were for real. Barnum never would have won fame if he had been nothing but a faker.

People don't like to be fooled. When they find out about it they can be mighty savage. Nevertheless, people are fooled all the time. Why?

I say it's because of something that happens at their mothers' knees. They are taught as children to take other people's word for things, to accept on faith what shouldn't be accepted on a stack of Bibles. The trouble begins right there.

It's a poor beginning for their role as citizens in a representative government. There couldn't be any poorer preparation for holding the sovereign power than to be taught as a child to take things on faith.

This country is full of people who have figured this out to a T. They know exactly how to work the angles of popular gullibility. Leading people down garden paths is their specialty. Their public confidence game could be stopped cold with nothing more complicated than this question:

What's cooking?

That's all it would take. If we could induce just that much skepticism in the minds of our fellowmen we could have this world's first and its all-time greatest popular government. Men could be free. The promise could be fulfilled.

I have thought about this for years, particularly on the occasions when I asked the unpopular question and came up with the unpopular answer. I have been hooted at and slandered and put on the defensive for concentrating on the hook in the bait when my associates were fascinated by the size of the worm.

You want to know how to strike the most telling blow for liberty? Just raise your own kids to ask, "What's cooking?" whenever the tub-thumpers and blabbermouths start a campaign to influence the public mind.

Encourage them to look for the hook. Warn them against the danger of becoming yes-men. Explain to them that progress always has been made possible by someone who questioned the accepted practice, the conventional wisdom, the traditional way and the orthodox method. And while you're at it, be sure they know that it will be a lonely life, made bearable only by the ultimate knowledge that it was more fun to be a skeptic than what H. L. Mencken always called one of the "booboosie."

We're well here and hope you are the same. Your aunt sprained her back pushing the wheelbarrow, but pay no attention if she says I was riding in it. Be a skeptic about that, too. I was getting out of it and it tipped.

Subs Play Cold War

By Robert Myers

PEARL HARBOR

The old salts of the U.S. Navy squirm uncomfortably when they hear anti-submarine warfare described as "hide and seek at sea".

"Sure, that's part of our job," admits Vice Adm. John S. (Jimmy) Thach, commander of Anti - Submarine Warfare Forces in the Pacific. But it's comparable to saying a successful quarterback in football needs to know only how to throw the ball."

The admiral's point is well taken. By the very nature of its organization, ASW encompasses the spectrum of the Navy: planes, helicopters, ships, shore stations and the submarine itself in tight team operations.

The recent firing of a sub-marine-launched Polaris missile with a nuclear warhead in the Christmas Island nuclear series demonstrated the threat of submarines — America's and Russia's. It showed that the Polaris can do its job.

U.S. NAVAL authorities know the Soviet Union has the same sub potential — if not as refined as the Polaris. They predict it is only a matter of time before the U.S.S.R. has something comparable.

Thach, who helped develop modern anti-submarine tactics, sees the 85 million square miles of the Pacific and Eastern Indian Ocean as the key to ASW.

The Soviet Union, with 430 subs at latest count — biggest fleet in the world — has several ports kept open the year round. Its neighbor Communist China has built the fourth largest submarine armada, beginning from scratch 10 years ago.

"If China had had subs during the Korean War," Thach said "the whole story there might have been different. Our job certainly would have been magnified many times."

The oceans are free — anyone can use them. This makes ASW's job tougher. When a Russian submarine is spotted, its location is marked well. America wants to know precisely where its potential enemy is.

In the Atlantic, an ASW commander offered a case of whisky to the crew that photographed a missile - launching Soviet sub. There was quite a party the night a patrol plane came back with a picture.

THACH believes if trouble comes from beneath the seas, the warning signal will be sounded in the Pacific.

"The Pacific is a larger and more uninhabited area," the admiral said, "without the expanses of ice, rough water and difficult underseas terrain of the Atlantic."

The Navy operates more freely in the Pacific than in the Atlantic. The reason — politics:

The Atlantic problem is compounded by split commands and overlapping authorities involved in NATO. The Navy declined to comment officially but high-ranking officers nod in agreement when the subject is raised.

How is ASW doing its job — and what improvements are needed?

From Thach, one answer:

"We're making progress. Our problem requires major advances in techniques and equipment to keep up with the advances achieved in modern submarines. Maybe we've improved the last five or 10 years by 400 per cent.

"But with the fantastic development of the submarine, our advance has not been enough. We still have a long way to go to be able to neutralize nuclear and missile - firing subs. We are fighting today's battles with yesterday's weapons."

MOBILITY is the watchword in modern submarine warfare, a concept Thach believes is unbeatable. "We might be able to stop a few of the enemy — and he a few of us," he said, "but no one would know where all the subs were. Some would get through." He added:

"We have to convince potential enemies we have no weaknesses and that attempted submarine attacks would be far too costly an operation for them to attempt.

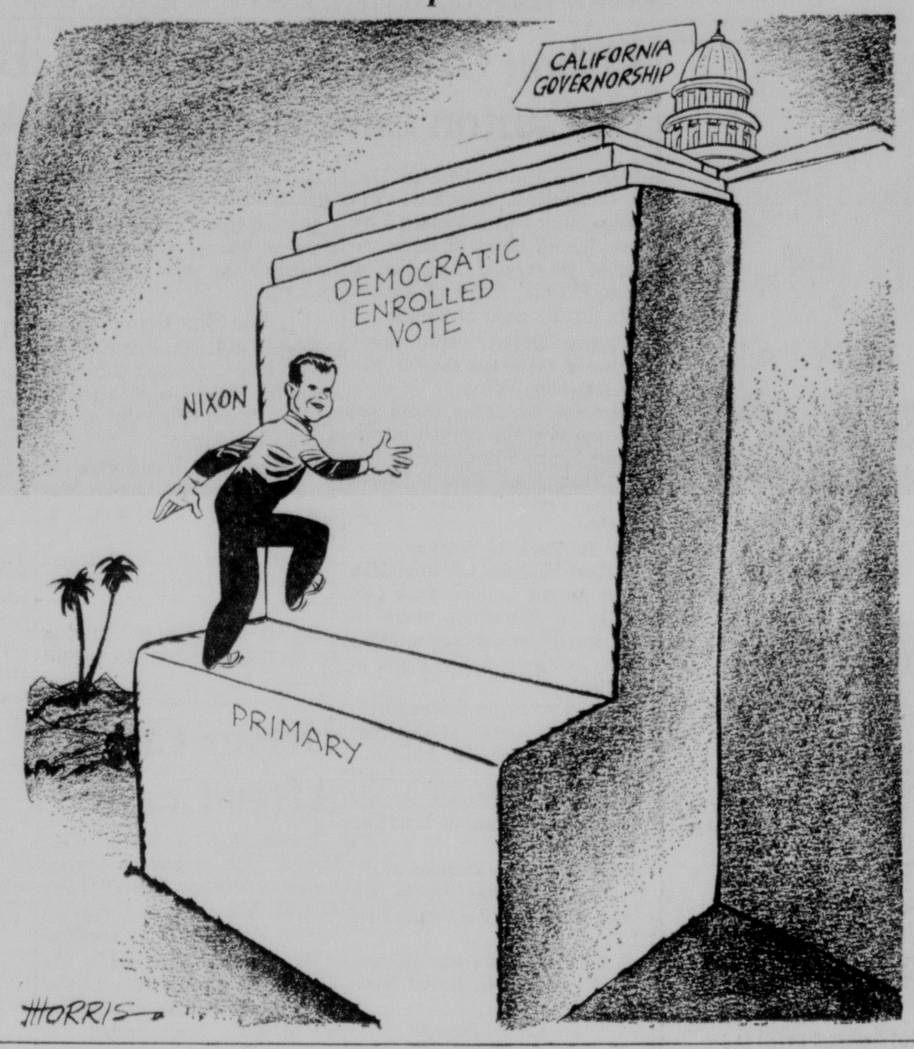

"The job isn't as hopeless as it seems. The broad Pacific enables us to meet an enemy attack far from our shores. It gives us defense in depth that we capitalize on in ASW."

The United States attack submarines have a marked superiority over Soviet boats — a statement verified by almost every authority outside the Iron Curtain. But these same authorities add:

"There is no reason to doubt that before long they (the U.S.S.R.) will have reached the same standards of excellence the United States has attained."

Labor 'Heat Wave' Due In August

By Victor Riesel

Starting with Aug. 13, President Kennedy's temper may rise with the temperature. Some of his best friends and allies are preparing to begin needling him then — gently — with the deft precision of a Christian Dior seamstress.

Victor Riesel

On that day labor's high command will meet in Chicago's Shereton Hotel. It will put in a long week to officially launch the drive for a national law changing the standard work week from 40 to 35 hours.

There will be nothing personal in all this pins and needles work —as some union chiefs have already told JFK in personal conversations inside the White House. Amongst themselves the labor leaders are saying: "He's a swell guy, but he doesn't move." Or: "He hears but he doesn't listen."

Or: "He talks to us about full production, the balance of payments and the cold war. He also has a classical economic theory that building roads and public works will be enough to put the unemployed back to work."

ONE POLICY-MAKING labor official who will sit in on the AFL-CIO Executive Council session next August said, "We battled with Roosevelt and Truman and we remained friends and political allies."

"The President," he added with grinning reminiscence of the short steel war, "is a fighter. Now we want him to come out fighting for the 35-hour week. When he wants something he's a whirlwind. Now we'd like him to put as much gusto into the fight for a shorter work week as he is for 'medicare.'"

It will take a lot of needling to get the President into action on the 35-hour week. He's opposed to it. He's for 40 hours' work at 40 hours' pay. Furthermore, he's on the spot. The business people are saying JFK clobbered steel, now when is he going to clobber the unions.

These same industrialists note that the steel price grand jury is still hearing witnesses in New York.

There's been a lot of conferring in White House circles and between the White House men and some of the union chiefs. The point made by the inner administration group is — don't make it necessary for the President to speak out.

THEY DON'T USE the word "clobber." But they — and some of the best public relations brains —ask themselves how do you handle the current wave of strikes, the threats of crippling stoppages, and in some areas the go-to-hell attitude.

All this is so scattered that the administration giants would have to go arguing with regional business agents in a hundred cities. Some key strikes now are running into their second month.

At this writing, there is one, for example, in its third week in the Northwest, centering around the Seattle-Tacoma area. It has been tying up a cool billion dollars worth of construction — that's all!

This is one most folks outside of that corner of the land have not heard. The Ironworkers have hit the bricks. Their demands on the contractors call for a package increase which would run from $30 to $60-a-week.

THE IRONWORKERS want more money, natch. But they have some other rather intriguing demands.

These fellows use their cars a lot to get to the big construction jobs. So one of their demands is for the contractor to pay the parking charge where parking isn't free.

They're also asking for free lunch and paid time in which to eat it after a certain number of hours.

In that business the men must change their clothes before getting on the job. They do this in a "change house." One of their new demands has it that the employer must supply free transportation to the job if the change house is more than six hundred feet from the work base.

The Ironworkers' Union also wants more paid travel time, special allotments if they use a ferry, travel time to be figured at 40 miles an hour, and the employer to pay for industrial compensation insurance during all this travel time from the house to the job and back.

THIS IS a free country. Everybody asks for what he thinks he can get. But there are 15,000 men involved in that Northwest strike —and new walkouts in the construction field are developing cross country.

In some areas the construction people have settled for $35 to $40-a-week more over a two-year contract. President Kennedy's line has been punched full of holes by such increased costs which will eat up a lot of the new public works' program money intended to make jobs for the unemployed.

So JFK feels he's been needled enough. That's why his temper may rise with the heat in August.

Yellowstone

Yellowstone National Park, America's first natural preserve, was born one night in the light of a wilderness campfire.

Braving hostile Indians and riding through early snows in what is now Wyoming, 15 men pitched tents on the night of Sept. 19, 1870. Around a campfire, the party—dubbed the "cavalcade to hell" and led by Gen. Henry D. Washburn, surveyor - general of the Montana Territory — discussed what they had seen.

There were geysers that roared and shot high in the air, a mountain of black glass and streams hot enough to cook fish. In five weeks, the expedition had mapped such wonders as Old Faithful, the hot springs at East Fork and the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone River.

The men first talked about staking personal claims. Some wanted to charge sightseers a fee, perhaps develop a resort area. Others speculated on timber and gold mining. Then Judge Cornelius Hedges suggested dismissing all private speculation. He recommended the scenic wonderland be set apart as a "public pleasuring ground", a great national park.

The idea caught fire and expedition members began writing articles, delivering lectures and buttonholing congressmen.

Literary Tribute

Many Indebted To 2 Anthologists

WASHINGTON

Two men from Boston—William Stanley Braithwaite and Edward J. O'Brien—are now both dead. A lot of people still alive owe them a great debt.

It is a debt which hardly ever gets acknowledged by more than a reference in a footnote in literary history. Neither was a creative artist. They published anthologies of other people's writings.

This is an attempt, if only for one day and in a personal way, to do better than a footnote for Braithwaite who died over the weekend at 83 and O'Brien, who died in 1941 at 51.

Every year from 1913 to 1929 Braithwaite, a Negro largely self-educated, published a fat book called "Anthology of Magazine Verse." Every year from 1915 to 1940 O'Brien published what he called the best short stories of the year.

Two things made these books remarkable: the time and the attitude of the two men.

The time, from about 1912 to about 1929 was the most exciting literary period in 20th century America. It was a time of literary revolution, protest, experimentation, new form, new views.

This writer grew up on the West Side of New York where Irish, German and Italian immigrants had settled, raised sons and daughters as first-generation Americans, and, many of them, still remained to see their grandchildren growing up.

This was not an intellectual environment. These people never had much time for schooling. They had to go to work young and they worked long hours. You would not sit around a living room in that neighborhood and hear about the new breath of life whistling through American literature.

But you could learn about it if you went to the neighborhood library. I didn't hear it from the librarian. They seemed too busy marking cards to read much. And I did not find new authors spread out on the shelves.

But I was lucky. I found the anthologies of O'Brien and Braithwaite.

O'Brien always seemed to include in his anthologies a certain percentage of the usual, old-fashioned formula short story from the popular and conservative magazines. I sometimes felt he thought he had to do it to get his books into the libraries at all.

But in between he sandwiched the new writing, by men like Sherwood Anderson and Ernest Hemingway, and experimental writing, some of which wasn't good. These he reprinted from magazines I had never heard of although they were great forces in the new literature—the Little Review, the Dial, the Double-Dealer, Midland, Broom.

That branch library did not carry them. But once I learned of them from O'Brien's book, I could go to New York's main library, find them, and sit there and read them on Sunday nights. And there I would discover even more writers than O'Brien put into his books.

The same thing with Braithwaite. He was a traditionalist in poetry himself, but, like O'Brien, along with the sunset and flowers stuff, he carried the work of the imagists like Hilda Doolittle in England who were championed by Ezra Pound, which was long before he got into trouble; the work of Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, Carl Sandburg, and the work of Robert Frost who for long had been ignored in his own country.

Braithwaite, too, carried the names of poetry magazines I had never heard of but which I could also find in the main library.

All this would not mean much if it were just the experience of one young man in the early 1920s. I never thought about it much at the time, I guess. I was just happy to have found these books and get help from them.

Later, as I grew older, I realized my experience must have been shared by many thousands of young people all over America, particularly in areas where there was no one to guide them in their reading by handing them the latest in literature at times when they were restless and seeking signs of new writing and the world in which they lived.

To us, Braithwaite and O'Brien made a great contribution and I have always felt indebted to both of them.

Letters To The Editor

A week ago Saturday was Little League tag day and boys were out asking us to buy tags to help them keep Little League possible.

We shouldn't be embarrassed when we can't give. A polite "no" and a smile is understood. These boys are only asking for help. And can you think of anything more worthwhile than keeping these young boys occupied playing baseball? Or would people rather see them roaming the streets and maybe getting into mischief!

It was bad enough when I heard the boys had been chased off a lot while selling tags, but the letter in The Review of June 5 calling our children "little beggars" topped it all.

Sure our boys collect money on tag day once a year, but you don't have to give to them when they ask, "Wanna buy a tag, mister?" You can walk away and spend your money on something more worthwhile. As for myself, I can't think of a much better place to give money than my church and for helping others. I'm sure the Lord would approve of supporting these boys.

We yell about juvenile delinquency, but what are we doing to help wipe it out? Yes, some organizations sell things. But I, for one, can't buy everytime I am approached. Our boys only asked for a donation. Even a penny helps. If you can't afford to give, I'm sure our boys understand.

I'll grant you we do have a lot of tag selling, but I only give when I feel the money is used in the right way. I'm not embarrassed when I say "no" because I only give to the organizations of which I approve. If I feel I can use my pennies for better things, I will. But ask yourself, Where does that extra change go? Is it used for the betterment of our community or for some little extra that I can easily do without.

To call our leaders unimaginative was very thoughtless, in my opinion. I, for one, give "three cheers" to those men who give so much of their time to Little League. How much time do these criticizing people give for others? Believe me, the men who manage and coach the Little League teams give a lot of their valuable time. If we had more people willing to give their time for our children, we would have less juvenile delinquency.

There are big fields going to waste in many places that could be used for Little League fields, but no, our boys and men have to hunt for fields to play on. There are shortages of fields for the Little League and Minor League and other baseball organizations.

I say, "Let's back these so-called 'Little Beggars' and give them our support. Three cheers to those who gave.

Shore Resort Miracle

By Richard Spong

A miracle — the kind of miracle that springs from the hard work and honest sweat of whole communities — is taking place along the Atlantic littoral. Rebuilding after the $300 million storm of Ash Wednesday, the shore communities are "opening up" for the season, most of them right on schedule.

This has taken a good deal of doing, starting with local organizations and extending up to the nation's capital.

Congress immediately rushed through an emergency measure permitting persons in the disaster area to write off their losses in their income tax returns for 1961.

Congress also acted on President Kennedy's request for emergency aid, authorizing $25 million for direct assistance by the Office of Emergency Planning and $15 million for Small Business Administration disaster loans for home and business restoration.

The funds are not yet available, having been held up as part of a supplementary appropriations measure for reasons irrelevant to this consideration, but they can be counted on.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, acting on requests from state governors, declared parts of New York, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, and Florida disaster areas.

Counties in West Virginia and Kentucky which suffered severe flood damage were also made eligible for federal aid.

The states hit hardest have provided aid of their own in various ways.

The Cost Of Learning

Additions are being constructed at Beaver Local schools, another is about to start at the Public School and Southern Local is approaching the construction stage of a new high school near Salineville.

Lisbon plans to have an addition at McKinley School ready for fall; East Palestine is nearing completion of its $650,000 school improvement project; Stanton Local is due to use its new $1.5 million facilities, and Hancock County is soon to start work on a $5.25 million system.

These undertakings, as well as others in the district, point up not only the tremendous cost of the "brick-and-mortar" phase of education, but underline the constant demand for keeping school programs apace with growing population needs and changes in educational methods.

Residents of these districts, as well as those in East Liverpool who have in the past put sizable sums into the schools, recognize in the matter of school financing the same problems of keeping a home — there can be no slackening of investment in your house or your family's future.

Money spent on classrooms and books and teachers is money put in trust for your community and your children. The dividends come on graduation day and when your city's rate of progress and civic attitude leave little to be desired.

Let's Spruce Up The Shoreline

Boating enthusiasts were out in force Sunday as they took advantage of the waters of the "Beautiful Ohio".

Each year the facilities increase in number along the river's banks and each year the Ohio's value as a recreational center is brought home more forcefully.

The recreational aspects should be recognized at all times along with the industrial. The Ohio is a tourist attraction worth exploiting to the fullest.

When one sees the boaters out invariably thoughts turn to the need for a general beautification program along the river's banks. Unattractive shorelines can detract greatly from the over-all natural beauty of the water.

There are things that could be done from time to time — trimming of the trees, permanent - type benches, grassing of the slopes, flower beds, etc.

The "Beautiful Ohio" deserves an equally beautiful shoreline.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew? I'm not sure I can handle this in writing, but let me try. It would go better over a couple bottles of soda pop, face-to-face, catch-as-catch-can.

You wondered in your letter how we could keep people from being led down the garden path by fools, charlatans, wrong-headed politicos and hard-hearted betrayers. You despaired of keeping this from happening and quoted the old chestnut about people liking to be fooled.

I object.

If Phineas T. Barnum ever actually said people like to be fooled, he was referring to show business, not public business. He had in mind his own fooleries — but remember that Tom Thumb, Jenny Lind and Jumbo were for real. Barnum never would have won fame if he had been nothing but a faker.

People don't like to be fooled. When they find out about it they can be mighty savage. Nevertheless, people are fooled all the time. Why?

I say it's because of something that happens at their mothers' knees. They are taught as children to take other people's word for things, to accept on faith what shouldn't be accepted on a stack of Bibles. The trouble begins right there.

It's a poor beginning for their role as citizens in a representative government. There couldn't be any poorer preparation for holding the sovereign power than to be taught as a child to take things on faith.

This country is full of people who have figured this out to a T. They know exactly how to work the angles of popular gullibility. Leading people down garden paths is their specialty. Their public confidence game could be stopped cold with nothing more complicated than this question:

What's cooking?

That's all it would take. If we could induce just that much skepticism in the minds of our fellowmen we could have this world's first and its all-time greatest popular government. Men could be free. The promise could be fulfilled.

I have thought about this for years, particularly on the occasions when I asked the unpopular question and came up with the unpopular answer. I have been hooted at and slandered and put on the defensive for concentrating on the hook in the bait when my associates were fascinated by the size of the worm.

You want to know how to strike the most telling blow for liberty? Just raise your own kids to ask, "What's cooking?" whenever the tub-thumpers and blabbermouths start a campaign to influence the public mind.

Encourage them to look for the hook. Warn them against the danger of becoming yes-men. Explain to them that progress always has been made possible by someone who questioned the accepted practice, the conventional wisdom, the traditional way and the orthodox method. And while you're at it, be sure they know that it will be a lonely life, made bearable only by the ultimate knowledge that it was more fun to be a skeptic than what H. L. Mencken always called one of the "booboosie."

We're well here and hope you are the same. Your aunt sprained her back pushing the wheelbarrow, but pay no attention if she says I was riding in it. Be a skeptic about that, too. I was getting out of it and it tipped.

Subs Play Cold War

By Robert Myers

PEARL HARBOR

The old salts of the U.S. Navy squirm uncomfortably when they hear anti-submarine warfare described as "hide and seek at sea".

"Sure, that's part of our job," admits Vice Adm. John S. (Jimmy) Thach, commander of Anti - Submarine Warfare Forces in the Pacific. But it's comparable to saying a successful quarterback in football needs to know only how to throw the ball."

The admiral's point is well taken. By the very nature of its organization, ASW encompasses the spectrum of the Navy: planes, helicopters, ships, shore stations and the submarine itself in tight team operations.

The recent firing of a sub-marine-launched Polaris missile with a nuclear warhead in the Christmas Island nuclear series demonstrated the threat of submarines — America's and Russia's. It showed that the Polaris can do its job.

U.S. NAVAL authorities know the Soviet Union has the same sub potential — if not as refined as the Polaris. They predict it is only a matter of time before the U.S.S.R. has something comparable.

There were geysers that roared and shot high in the air, a mountain of black glass and streams hot enough to cook fish. In five weeks, the expedition had mapped such wonders as Old Faithful, the hot springs at East Fork and the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone River.

The men first talked about staking personal claims. Some wanted to charge sightseers a fee, perhaps develop a resort area. Others speculated on timber and gold mining. Then Judge Cornelius Hedges suggested dismissing all private speculation. He recommended the scenic wonderland be set apart as a "public pleasuring ground", a great national park.

The idea caught fire and expedition members began writing articles, delivering lectures and buttonholing congressmen.

"Despite all our advertising, the administration claims that American youth isn't physically fit! . . . This is a foul insult to the breakfast food industry, gentlemen!"

Literary Tribute

By James Marlow

Many Indebted To 2 Anthologists

WASHINGTON

Two men from Boston—William Stanley Braithwaite and Edward J. O'Brien—are now both dead. A lot of people still alive owe them a great debt.

It is a debt which hardly ever gets acknowledged by more than a reference in a footnote in literary history. Neither was a creative artist. They published anthologies of other people's writings.

This is an attempt, if only for one day and in a personal way, to do better than a footnote for Braithwaite who died over the weekend at 83 and O'Brien, who died in 1941 at 51.

Every year from 1913 to 1929 Braithwaite, a Negro largely self-educated, published a fat book called "Anthology of Magazine Verse." Every year from 1915 to 1940 O'Brien published what he called the best short stories of the year.

Two things made these books remarkable: the time and the attitude of the two men.

The time, from about 1912 to about 1929 was the most exciting literary period in 20th century America. It was a time of literary revolution, protest, experimentation, new form, new views.

This writer grew up on the West Side of New York where Irish, German and Italian immigrants had settled, raised sons and daughters as first-generation Americans, and, many of them, still remained to see their grandchildren growing up.

This was not an intellectual environment. These people never had much time for schooling. They had to go to work young and they worked long hours. You would not sit around a living room in that neighborhood and hear about the new breath of life whistling through American literature.

But you could learn about it if you went to the neighborhood library. I didn't hear it from the librarian. They seemed too busy marking cards to read much. And I did not find new authors spread out on the shelves.

But I was lucky. I found the anthologies of O'Brien and Braithwaite.

O'Brien always seemed to include in his anthologies a certain percentage of the usual, old-fashioned formula short story from the popular and conservative magazines. I sometimes felt he thought he had to do it to get his books into the libraries at all.

But in between he sandwiched the new writing, by men like Sherwood Anderson and Ernest Hemingway, and experimental writing, some of which wasn't good. These he reprinted from magazines I had never heard of although they were great forces in the new literature—the Little Review, the Dial, the Double-Dealer, Midland, Broom.

That branch library did not carry them. But once I learned of them from O'Brien's book, I could go to New York's main library, find them, and sit there and read them on Sunday nights. And there I would discover even more writers than O'Brien put into his books.

The same thing with Braithwaite. He was a traditionalist in poetry himself, but, like O'Brien, along with the sunset and flowers stuff, he carried the work of the imagists like Hilda Doolittle in England who were championed by Ezra Pound, which was long before he got into trouble; the work of Amy Lowell, Edgar Lee Masters, Carl Sandburg, and the work of Robert Frost who for long had been ignored in his own country.

Braithwaite, too, carried the names of poetry magazines I had never heard of but which I could also find in the main library.

All this would not mean much if it were just the experience of one young man in the early 1920s. I never thought about it much at the time, I guess. I was just happy to have found these books and get help from them.

Later, as I grew older, I realized my experience must have been shared by many thousands of young people all over America, particularly in areas where there was no one to guide them in their reading by handing them the latest in literature at times when they were restless and seeking signs of new writing and the world in which they lived.

To us, Braithwaite and O'Brien made a great contribution and I have always felt indebted to both of them.

Letters To The Editor

A week ago Saturday was Little League tag day and boys were out asking us to buy tags to help them keep Little League possible.

We shouldn't be embarrassed when we can't give. A polite "no" and a smile is understood. These boys are only asking for help. And can you think of anything more worthwhile than keeping these young boys occupied playing baseball? Or would people rather see them roaming the streets and maybe getting into mischief!

It was bad enough when I heard the boys had been chased off a lot while selling tags, but the letter in The Review of June 5 calling our children "little beggars" topped it all.

Sure our boys collect money on tag day once a year, but you don't have to give to them when they ask, "Wanna buy a tag, mister?" You can walk away and spend your money on something more worthwhile. As for myself, I can't think of a much better place to give money than my church and for helping others. I'm sure the Lord would approve of supporting these boys.

We yell about juvenile delinquency, but what are we doing to help wipe it out? Yes, some organizations sell things. But I, for one, can't buy everytime I am approached. Our boys only asked for a donation. Even a penny helps. If you can't afford to give, I'm sure our boys understand.

I'll grant you we do have a lot of tag selling, but I only give when I feel the money is used in the right way. I'm not embarrassed when I say "no" because I only give to the organizations of which I approve. If I feel I can use my pennies for better things, I will. But ask yourself. Where does that extra change go? Is it used for the betterment of our community or for some little extra that I can easily do without.

To call our leaders unimaginative was very thoughtless, in my opinion. I, for one, give "three cheers" to those men who give so much of their time to Little League. How much time do these criticizing people give for others? Believe me, the men who manage and coach the Little League teams give a lot of their valuable time. If we had more people willing to give their time for our children, we would have less juvenile delinquency.

There are big fields going to waste in many places that could be used for Little League fields, but no, our boys and men have to hunt for fields to play on. There are shortages of fields for the Little League and Minor League and other baseball organizations.

I say, "Let's back these so-called 'Little Beggars' and give them our support. Three cheers to those who gave.

Shore Resort Miracle

By Richard Spong

A miracle — the kind of miracle that springs from the hard work and honest sweat of whole communities — is taking place along the Atlantic littoral. Rebuilding after the $300 million storm of Ash Wednesday, the shore communities are "opening up" for the season, most of them right on schedule.

This has taken a good deal of doing, starting with local organizations and extending up to the nation's capital.

Congress immediately rushed through an emergency measure permitting persons in the disaster area to write off their losses in their income tax returns for 1961.

Congress also acted on President Kennedy's request for emergency aid, authorizing $25 million for direct assistance by the Office of Emergency Planning and $15 million for Small Business Administration disaster loans for home and business restoration.

The funds are not yet available, having been held up as part of a supplementary appropriations measure for reasons irrelevant to this consideration, but they can be counted on.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, acting on requests from state governors, declared parts of New York, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, and Florida disaster areas.

Counties in West Virginia and Kentucky which suffered severe flood damage were also made eligible for federal aid.

The states hit hardest have provided aid of their own in various ways.

Autoists Lose Licenses For Law Violation

A Wellsville motorist had his driver's license suspended for six months and a Salineville youth lost his permit for 30 days after they pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to traffic violations Saturday night on the East Liverpool - Wellsville Rd.

A Lisbon soldier, driver of a car in which a passenger was hurt critically Friday night, was fined, along with two other motorists. A city motorist forfeited a bond for a parking violation.

George S. Crawford, 1728½ Clark Ave., Wellsville, drew the six-month suspension plus a 10-day term in the County Jail at Lisbon and a fine of $200 and costs when he admitted driving while under the influence of alcohol late Saturday night.

State Highway Patrolman E. D. Wain, who filed the charge, told Judge Samuel M. Chertoff he saw Crawford head east from Wellsville about 11:10 p. m.

The motorist weaved several times from the right berm to the medial strip before he was halted on W. 8th St., the state patrolman said.

James L. Sevek, 18, of Salineville R. D. 1, who admitted he traveled 110 miles an hour, more than double the night-time speed limit, about the same time, lost his license for a month and was fined $25 and costs.

Sevek told the judge he was returning home from a dance with three others.

Wain said he saw the driver pull from Shadyside Ave. onto Route 7. The quick turn caused the car to "fishtail," the patrolman said, and he started to follow the motorist, finally halting him near Silvers Switch.

Spcl. 4C Alvin Bailey, 20, of 133 E. High St., Lisbon, home on furlough from Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., also was fined $25 and costs for speeding as the aftermath of a wreck Friday night in which his 1961 station wagon was demolished when he lost control on a curve on Route 30, about a mile north of the city limits, and struck a junked auto.

Wain explained the circumstances to the judge, adding that a passenger, Earl Temple, 31, of Sprucevale suffered partial paralysis of the right side and was unconscious for several hours after the crash.

Temple has been transferred to South Side Hospital in Youngstown for surgery, it was reported.

Raymond Franklin, 20, of 1801 Nevada St., Wellsville, arrested by city police for speeding 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on Pennsylvania Ave. at 3:23 a. m. Sunday, drew a fine of $10 and costs.

Claude Brooks, 65, of 1736 Globe St., cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance after a three-car "chain" collision on Pennsylvania Ave. Friday afternoon, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs.

Max E. Linville, 1821 Michigan Ave., charged with leaving the scene of an accident after a hit-skip collision Thursday night on Harvey Ave., was granted a continuance until Wednesday morning to permit the appearance of Patrolman Paul Blevins, the arresting officer.

Linville pleaded innocent to the charge and his bond of $107.50 was continued.

John F. Disch, 750 Minerva St., who has received 20 tickets for parking violations, forfeited a bond of $57.50. He was cited specifically for failing to settle a ticket issued on E. 6th St. on Nov. 26 by Mrs. Catherine Martin, a "Meter Maid."

The announcement on agreement on a Cabinet came as a surprise. After a morning meeting, an air of strong pessimism prevailed.

Mrs. Louis H. Wagner, general chairman, gave a brief history of the Post Office in Georgetown, saying the borough has had a postal facility since it was founded 160 years ago.

The new building, completed last winter, was opened for business in January and is a part of the Post Office Department's commercial leasing plan.

Under this program, the building remains under private ownership, owned by Mrs. Mackall and her husband, John Mackall.

The present staff, introduced by Mrs. Mackall, includes Flora Lee Nash, substitute clerk, Charles G. Wright, rural route carrier, and Dorothy I. Hughes, substitute carrier.

Past postmasters introduced were Francis O. Todd, who served during 1934-1957, prior to Mrs. Mackall, and Mrs. Pearl Reed McHaffie, acting postmaster in 1933-1934.

Postmasters attending included those from Hookstown, Shippingport, Aliquippa, Ambridge, Beaver, Conway, South Heights and New Bedford.

The Rev. H. H. Bish, pastor of the Bethel Methodist Church near Hookstown, gave the invocation and the Rev. Milo Smith, pastor of the Hookstown Free Methodist Church gave the benediction.

The dedication was sponsored by the Hookstown Grange assisted by Post 952, its auxiliary, Georgetown Borough Council, Georgetown Girl Scouts and Brownies, Georgetown Citizens Committee, the WSCS of the Methodist Church, St. Luke's Guild, the South Side High School Band and the Southern Beaver County Joint Schools.

During the open house, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Habenicht was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Mrs. Habenicht telephoned the court this morning to report she was "too ill" to appear and her hearing was continued until Thursday at 9 a. m.

A similar charge was filed following another mishap Sunday at 12:45 p. m. on E. 5th St. at Washington St.

Police said a 1958 two-door sedan operated by Howard Monroe, 52, of 1164 Erie St. was hit from the rear by a 1953 four-door sedan driven by Elwood Davis, 21, of Salineville R. D. 2. There was damage to the front of the Davis car and the rear of the Monroe auto.

Both autos were headed west on E. 5th, officers said. Monroe said he was halted for the traffic signal at Washington when he noted Davis approaching from the rear. He said he assumed Davis would be unable to stop and attempted unsuccessfully to pull out of the way.

Davis, who pleaded guilty, was fined $25 and costs this morning by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Meanwhile, a report also was filed on a collision that damaged a parked auto Saturday at 1:42 a. m. on Mulberry St.

A 1952 two-door sedan driven by Franklin Phelps, 18, of 304 Washington St. collided with a parked 1954 sedan owned by Kenneth Adams, 468 Mulberry St., officers said.

There was damage to the right front fender of Phelps' car and the left rear fender of the Adams auto, officers said. Phelps said he was making a turn onto Mulberry St. and attempting to look into a tavern at the same time when he struck the parked auto.

McCoy presented Hayes with his county commander's cap and Mrs. Virginia Mast with a gift for outstanding service as adjutant.

Mrs. Mast was elected to her fourth term as secretary-treasurer of the Ohio State Association of County Service Officers at a recent meeting in Cleveland.

McCoy reminded the posts that the youths chosen to attend Buckeye Boys State will leave Thursday for Ohio University at Athens.

Past officers' badges were given to retiring officers by Hughes.

Al Rutecki, county Civil Defense director, gave a brief outline of his plans for the county C. D. organization.

Guests beside Beane were Dwight Bush of North Georgetown, 10th District vice commander; Jerry Knight and S. K. Tolson, past commanders of Post 212 at Massillon; Cliff Tolson, Stark County commander; Fenton Rice of Weirton Post 581 and Rutecki.

Steubenville Trucker Cited After Collision

A charge of driving left of center faces a Steubenville trucker as an aftermath of a collision Friday afternoon on Route 7 at Stratton, according to the State Highway Patrol at Wintersville.

A truck driven by Paul Kirkland, 26, struck the left rear of a car driven by Gladys M. Baker, 42, of 816½ Trenton St., Toronto, the patrol said.

Officers said another vehicle halted on the highway ahead of the truck. Kirkland swerved to avoid hitting the other car and hit the side of the oncoming Baker auto, the patrol said.

The attempt was made between 2:30 and 11:30 a.m. Saturday, police said. It caused damage to an aluminum door valued at $150, officers said.

Joseph Clement of Carolina Ave. told police at 8 a.m. Saturday the lock was pried off a soap dispensing machine in the Econ-O-Wash Laundry on State St., which he operates, but apparently nothing was taken. The machine was damaged sometime in the 24 hours before the report, Clement said.

Harold Bailey, 314½ Market St., told police Saturday a $99 Polaroid camera was stolen from his apartment sometime Friday or Saturday. The intruder forced the door of Bailey's apartment to gain entrance, he reported.

Chapin & Chapin, Inc., of Norwalk, one of the contractors on the city freeway, told police a 6-x-6-foot plate glass window in its W. 8th St. office was broken sometime between 5 p.m. Saturday and 6 a.m. Sunday.

A plate glass window 11-x-7-feet was broken sometime Friday night or early Saturday in the storeroom of the Keys Co., Inc., 406 Market St., officers said.

A small stone was found on a display stand inside the store, police said, adding there was a "remote possibility" the window was broken when the stone was hurled from underneath the wheels of a passing vehicle.

Joseph Adametz of Niles complained to police Saturday night that some unknown person hurled a beer bottle from the doorway of the E. & B. Tavern on Dresden Ave.& damaging his parked car nearby.

Construction troubles have forced the Pennsylvania State Forestry Department to order an indefinite closing of the 100-acre lake at Raccoon State Park in Beaver County.

was the first North Coast Limited passenger to be killed in 62 years.

The derailment came a little more than three months after the same train, westbound, ran off the tracks and into a lake near Athol, Idaho. Two crewmen were killed in that wreck. Its cause is still a mystery.

Most of the passengers were sleeping or just awakening at 4:40 a.m. as the train crashed a mile short of a trestle that spans a 300-foot canyon.

The body of the Dooms child was clawed out of the mud by a frantic woman. Another child buried in mud in the same car was rescued.

The train had passed over one mile of an eight-mile descent on winding Evaro Hill, which drops 1,100 feet.

Coal Pipeline Plan Revived

R. H. Henry, president of the Youngstown Coal Pipeline Co., revealed Sunday his firm has revived its two-year-old plan to build an underground coal conveyor between the East Liverpool area and Mahoning County steel mills, particularly if plans do not materialize for a Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal.

Henry said the concern now is considering construction of the coal and coke conveyor between a river terminal "somewhere in the East Liverpool area" and a point at Struthers.

From the Struthers terminal, the material could be distributed on the Lake Erie & Eastern Railroad to U.S. Steel's Ohio Works, Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.'s Brier Hill Works or Republic Steel Corp.'s Youngstown Works, Henry said.

Retiring Officer Honored

Merging Local Has Final Meeting

UNION OFFICER CITED. A framed citation was presented retiring vice president Willis VanDyne at a meeting of IBOP Local 130. From left are John L. McCune, retiring after 35 years as a pottery worker; Floyd B. Jividen, local president; VanDyne, and Charles M. Flick, retiring after 52 years in a local pottery. The local is merging with No. 9.

Presentation of a framed citation to a retiring officer was made at the concluding meeting of Local 130, kilnfiremen, helpers and trackmen, Friday night in the IBOP Hall.

Two other retiring pottery employes were recognized at the final meeting of Local 130, which will merge with three others as Local 9.

THE CITATION was presented Willis VanDyne, 411 Monroe St., a pottery employe for 45 years who is retiring as a kilnfiremen at the Homer Laughlina China Co.

VanDyne was instrumental in the formation of Local 130 in May 130, and made the first contact with the IBOP headquarters that resulted in its inception. The citation was for "faithful service" in recognizing VanDyne, who has served every office in the local, and is currently vice president.

The presentation was made by Floyd B. Jividen, local president. VanDyne, 65, plans to visit his children in different cities and to "just relax" during his retirement.

—:—

ALSO RETIRING are John L. McCune, 65, of M.C. Route 22, Lisbon St., and Charles M. Flick, 75, of 827 Lisbon St.

McCuen, inspector of the local, worked 35 years as kilnfireman at Homer Laughlin. During his retirement, he plans to "loaf, garden, and work at the First Baptist Church."

Flick retires after 52 years as a pottery worker, including 27 years as a kilnfireman, and 25 years as a dishmaker. Employed by Hall china Co. until his retirement, Flick plans to spend his time "puttering around the house."

—:—

OTHER OFFICERS of the local include Arthur Parrish, financial secretary; Lester Shaw, recording secretary; Norm Gregory, guard, and Sam Lockhart, Cliff Wilson and Ray Dunn, trustees.

Coal Pipeline Plan Revived

R. H. Henry, president of the Youngstown Coal Pipeline Co., revealed Sunday his firm has revived its two-year-old plan to build an underground coal conveyor between the East Liverpool area and Mahoning County steel mills, particularly if plans do not materialize for a Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal.

Henry said the concern now is considering construction of the coal and coke conveyor between a river terminal "somewhere in the East Liverpool area" and a point at Struthers.

From the Struthers terminal, the material could be distributed on the Lake Erie & Eastern Railroad to U.S. Steel's Ohio Works, Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.'s Brier Hill Works or Republic Steel Corp.'s Youngstown Works, Henry said.

Files In Bankruptcy

LISBON — Harvey S. Tullis of R. D. 2 has filed a petition in bankruptcy in U. S. District Court at Youngstown, listing liabilities of $4,939 and assets of $802.

Hookstown Area Auxiliary Elects

Mrs. Mary Alice Rardin was named president of the auxiliary of South Side American Legion Post 952 during a nomination and election of officers Friday evening at the post home near Hookstown. She succeeds Mrs. Virginia McDonald.

Others elected were Mrs. Betty Scott, first vice president; Mrs. Inza Laughlin, second vice president; Mrs. Ann Cooper, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Illig, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Mary Belich, treasurer; Mrs. Alice Hall, chaplain; Mrs. Ruth Leeper, historian, and Mrs. Ruth Trimble, sergeant-at-arms.

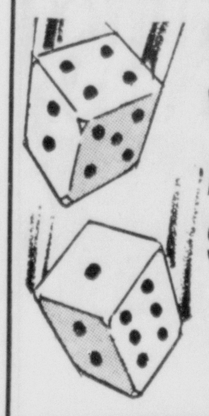

Mrs. Illig was re-elected. They will be installed in August.

A game prize was won by Mrs. Cooper. Next meeting is July 13.

Bullwinkle's Creators Turn Another Cheek

Most of TV's new cartoon series which premiered in the prime evening hours last fall haven't been renewed. Despite this failure, however, Hollywood's cartoon factories still are working full blast.

Hal Humphrey

"The trouble with the business is that nobody wants to do original cartoon shows," says Jay Ward, who with Bill Scott concocted the "Bullwinkle" series for NBC on Sunday nights this season.

"That's right," reports Scott. "You won't believe this, but we had an offer to da 'Lawrence of Arabia' in cartoons for TV. I said to the guy, 'Maybe you'd like to call it Larry and His Friends,' and he didn't even laugh."

-:-

WARD AND SCOTT believe the "Top Cat" and "Calvin and the Colonel" cartoons on ABC flopped because the former copies Sgt. Bilko and the latter was an animal rendition of Amos 'n' Andy.

"I know, you're going to say that 'Flintstones' is a copy of Jackie Gleason's old 'Honeymooners,' and it succeeded, but maybe that's the exception to prove the rule," says Ward.

Although their own "Bullwinkle" series had a lower rating than the other cartoon shows, Ward and Scott believe they had the best series. Ward thinks also the dialogue in "Bullwinkle" may have been too fast for most viewers.

They could cop a plea on the fact "Bullwinkle" was opposite "Lassie," which is like opening up a gambling den across the street from a tabernacle.

-:-

"BULLWINKLE" isn't going down the drain, but the sponsor is moving it from 7 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sundays next season.

This earlier time spot costs half as much and gives the sponsor six minutes instead of three for commercials. As Scott says, "Whatever is good for the sponsor must be good for 'Bullwinkle.' "

In a bulletin to the press, announcing next season's time change, Ward and Scott were quoted: "We feel that the new time slot gives us the opportunity to fulfill our intellectual potential. Besides, it's better than not being on at all."

They also said their company had purchased the animation rights to the Dead Sea and Roget's Thesaurus and was negotiating with Carl Sandburg to do the voice of Thesaurus.

-:-

THESE ARE direct digs at competitors who are basing cartoons for TV on Laurel & Hardy, Fibber McGee & Molly and Lum 'n' Abner. Ward and Scott may have bombed at the rating polls with "Bullwinkle," but most critics agree that their brand of humor has far surpassed TV's other cartoon creators.

The irrepressible Ward - Scott team has another project which already is sold to Britain's commercial TV network and which they expect to soon sell for U.S. release.

It's a series called "Fractured Flickers" and is comprised of old silent Hollywood movies which have been condensed to a half hour and voice-dubbed strictly for laughs.

-:-

THE FIRST ONE is an old Tarzan silent flicker. Scott has dubbed a high giggly voice for Tarzan (as played by Elmo Lincoln), which would make even the apes suspicious of him.

"The Edgar Rice Burroughs estate already has sued us," reports Scott, "but we're used to that. We have resident attorneys for just such emergencies."

This past season, "Bullwinkle" was in trouble with NBC for "rough language" and poking fun at the network's color peacock. And the U.S. Forestry Service lodged a complaint when Ward and Scott came up with a character called "Stokey the Bear," who went around starting fires.

They do adhere to certain principles, however. Never, for example, will you see two cartoon characters kissing in a Ward-Scott production.

"It just isn't done," says Scott. "People resent it."

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Every now and then you pick up the newspaper and read where a husband shot his wife or vice versa over some trivial matter. I know now how such things can happen. My husband has a habit which is driving me to the breaking point.

When he wants a second cup of coffee he doesn't ask for it. He just sits there and points to his cup with a forceful downward motion of the index finger.

I have managed to control my temper up to now but I'm afraid one of these days I'll go haywire and all creation will break loose. Why this gesture infuriates me so I don't know. Am I completely out of my mind? How can I get a grip on myself?—ON THE BRINK.

Dear Brink: The gesture infuriates you because it suggests that you are in a class with animals. When you want a dog to do something you point.

Why seethe in silence and build an ulcer? Simply tell your husband you can understand English and he can skip the pantomime. It should work no hardship on him to ask for a second cup of coffee. And, incidentally, some husbands have been known to say "please" and "thank you."

Easy Mark

Dear Ann: Since everyone I know reads your column I hope you will print my letter. You need not change the facts to conceal my identity. I want to be recognized. I only hope the people referred to in this letter will recognize themselves and do something about it.

Six years ago I loaned my wardrobe trunk to the daughter of a friend who was going away to college. The girl is now married and has a child. She still has my trunk.

Last summer a relative borrowed my son's golf cart "for a weekend." His name is emblazoned on the cart so there can be no question about who owns it. It's still over there.

During the Christmas holidays my neighbor asked to borrow my silver cocktail shaker. She said she'd return it "tomorrow." When I went to fix some cocktails last week I had no shaker.

What makes people behave in such a thoughtless, inconsiderate manner? I can't figure it out.

Can you?—GENEROUS JERK.

Dear Generous: This doesn't take much figuring. Your two words "thoughtless" and "inconsiderate" sum up the situation.

There's no cure for these characters. Unhappily, your only recourse is to phone them or write a reminder. But why wait months and years?

Slob Sister

Dear Ann: The woman who signed herself "Chippendale Soul" also has a Chippendale head. Her definition of "gracious living" is something she dreamed up out of nowhere. It takes more than flowers on the table and linen napkins to make living gracious.

We eat on oilcloth every night and I put the milk bottle right on the table when I feel like it. Nobody in the family has croaked at the sight of a pickle jar or a catsup bottle. Yet we live more graciously than some people who have a great deal of money.

I'm reminded of the weekend I spent with a girl friend during my college days. Her folks lived on an estate. They dined by candlelight and had two kinds of wine on the table every evening. These "gracious livers" were skunk-drunk from the minute I arrived on Friday evening until I left on Sunday afternoon.

They argued and used language that would make a mule skinner blush. There was never any conversation at their table-only fights.

So, if you don't mind I'll stick to my oilcloth and pickle jars. The gracious livers can have candlelight and profanity. —JUST A SLOB.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Steel Market Picture Due To Brighten

CLEVELAND (AP) — The dull steel market picture may brighten somewhat next month, an industry publication said today.

"Look for a modest upturn in steel buying next month when automakers start releasing orders for 1963 model runs," Steel Magazine said. "Until then, the car companies will place only fill-in orders and mills will continue booking tonnage at a rate equivalent to only 50 per cent of shipping capacity."

Steel said the automobile manufacturers have enough steel on hand to complete the 1962 models and get almost a month's start on the 1963 cars.

"On June 1 they had 60-day stockpiles totaling almost 2.1 million tons. That's nearly double the amount they carried at the same date in 1960, when car production equaled the 6.7 million units expected for 1962. Another two months' stocks are on order, waiting only for shipping releases."

The car makers are trying to get pilot lines for 1963 models started earlier than usual "so they can do a faster debugging job when production starts," Steel said, noting that the first 1963 Chevrolets were scheduled to roll off the pilot plant line in Flint, Mich., last week.

Steel said the downtrend in steel shipments is continuing. Buyers continue to defer some shipments, and June shipments from steel mills will be down about 10 per cent from May, the publication predicted.

After nine straight weeks of decline, steel output leveled off at an estimated 1,586,000 tons last week. Steel said the scrap market continued to decline. The price composite on No 1 heavy melting steel scrap dropped 34 cents last week to $24.83 a gross ton, the lowest point in eight years.

Beat Calm Retreat

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — If you're threatened by a bee, make a calm disengagement instead of a panicky retreat to avoid getting stung. That's the word from the Florida Board of Health, which also counsels you to leave off flowery - smelling perfumes and wear light-colored clothes because perfumes attract and dark clothes provoke bees. When appeasement tactics fail, douse the stung spot with calamine lotion.

A PORCH OR PATIO DECK designed in the grand manner can double the livability of your home. This one wraps around house on three sides, is built of fir planks laid over framework which raises it to level of interior floors. Wide balustrade is a handsome feature and good for rail sitters. Deep roof overhang shelters deck from overdose of sun.

DESIGNED ESPECIALLY for a narrow lot, this three-bedroom, two-bath home usually can be built on a lot 50 feet wide. Construction is of brick and stone veneer on wood, with some vertical siding on the front. There is a full basement, and the roof is asphalt shingle. Homes for Americans Plan HA242G encompasses 1,310 square feet plus a 305-square-foot carport. Architect is Elmer Gylleck, 358 E. Chicago St., Elgin, Ill.

You Should Have A Plan For Real Outdoor Living

PORTLAND, Ore. — The secret of pleasurable outdoor living is to keep it comfortable and simple.

If you make a project out of barbecuing a couple of hamburgers or taking a sun bath, there's no point in doing it at all, for living in the back yard should be strictly informal and absolutely impromptu.

But conversely, to achieve total comfort in outdoor living, you've got to start with a plan. The plan includes creation of a weather-controlled accessible living area plus installation of whatever furniture, storage apparatus and outdoor cooking equipment you need. In short, plan your outdoor living area like you would any room of the house. Once executed, you'll find that using it entails no extra bother.

Step One is the layout of the fresh air room. Many families have turned to the wood deck as its base because a deck can be built to the same level as interior floors and this makes it accessible for the indoors — its most important feature.

In many cases, a deck that wraps around the house on two or more sides is in order since the wrap-around deck provides an opportunity to develop several outdoor rooms.

One area adjacent to the kitchen, for example, could be roofed to serve as a special dining deck. It would be furnished accordingly and a connecting window could be remodeled to serve as a pass-through between deck and kitchen. In this manner, most of the cooking could be done indoors — which is more convenient any way — and a permanent, bricked barbecue pit could be built into the deck for those times when you really want that steak charcoal broiled.

A roofless section of the deck could be walled for privacy and serve sun bathers. Yet a third area could be planned for the "living room", reached from the indoor living room. Here, a roof might again be in order for sun control, and a balustrade could be designed with a built-in bench to offer extra seating capacity for visitors.

To keep maintenance of the deck at a minimum, build it of fir with floor planks spaced an eighth of an inch apart for water drainage. Don't paint the deck. If you do, you'll only have to repaint it at some future date — and who wants to look forward to that. Simply install the fir planks raw and let them weather.

The resulting shade of silver will be completely acceptable to the eye, whether the deck is attached to a home of traditional style with painted siding or to a contemporary house with stained siding. And when you realize that all future upkeep will consist only of an occasional hosing to clean it off, you'll like the appearance of weathered wood even better.

Create a garden atmosphere on your deck with a few pots of easy - care flowers or dwarf shrubs, but be sure your furniture has indoor - the - house comfort and durability. Those spiffy little garden chairs that collapse under a 200-pound man don't win friends.

Data Offered On Floor Tile

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Resilient floor tiles continue to rank high on the list of best-selling do-it-yourself materials.

Their continued popularity is due to their ease of application, even by those who find other handyman chores too difficult to tackle.

Here are some facts about the better-known varieties of resilient floor tiles:

Asphalt — Low in cost and wears well. Can be used in below-ground levels and on concrete surfaces. Should not be used outdoors where there are temperature extremes. Must not be cleaned or polished with any product containing oils or solvents. Special types of asphalt tile are grease-proof.

Vinyl — Flexible and durable. Resistant to acids, grease, oil and stains. Comes in a wide variety of sparkling colors. Most manufacturers recommend occasional waxing for appearance and protection.

Rubber — Also flexible. Easy to walk on and virtually noiseless. Resistant to acids and most stains. Almost slip-proof. Should not be cleaned or polished with products containing solvents. Inclined to fade when exposed continuously to bright sunlight.

Cork — Easy to walk on. Has a luxurious appearance. Excessive use of water should be avoided. May or may not be waxed. Penetrating floor sealer sometimes recommended for easier maintenance.

Linoleum — Economical and easy to apply. Avilable in a wide range of colors and patterns. Should not be varnished or lacquered.

In laying any kind of floor tiles, you can hardly go wrong unless you disregard the manufacturer's instructions regarding the application of the adhesive.

Plumber Will Do The Best Job In Draining Pipes

Question: We have just bought a summer cottage. To prevent the trouble a neighbor of ours had last year, we want to know how to drain the water from the pipes when the summer is over.

Is this something we can do ourselves or should we hire a plumber to do it?

Answer: Many persons do the draining themselves, but there is no doubt that it is better to hire a plumber. Sometimes you think you have all the water out of the pipes, only to find out later, regretfully, that some water had not been drained.

A plumber uses a force pump to be certain all the water is out. All water in traps under fixtures must be siphoned out. Another method is to fill the traps with glycerine. This anti - freeze also should be poured into other places where water might be trapped, such as the bathroom bowl.

Question: We have flood conditions in our basement ever time there is a heavy rain. We tried using some kind of cement sealer on the inside walls, but it hasn't helped very much. I've often read about damp proofing. Can you tell me what it is?

Answer: Damp proofing is treating the outside wall of the foundation with a special asphalt or pitch coating. It can be done only after the soil has been dug away from the foundation wall or walls to be treated. It must be done professionally.

Canada Seen Keeping 92½-Cent Dollar Rate

OTTAWA (AP) — Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming said Sunday night Canada will not consider any change from the present Canadian dollar exchange rate of 92½ cents to the U.S. dollar.

Fleming said in a statement: "We are determined to maintain the 92½-cent rate against pressures of any sort."

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton was quoted by newsmen, Friday as saying that he supports a further devaluation of the dollar exchange rate to 90 cents.

Steel Market Picture Due To Brighten

CLEVELAND (AP) — The dull steel market picture may brighten somewhat next month, an industry publication said today.

"Look for a modest upturn in steel buying next month when automakers start releasing orders for 1963 model runs," Steel Magazine said. "Until then, the car companies will place only fill-in orders and mills will continue booking tonnage at a rate equivalent to only 50 per cent of shipping capacity."

Steel said the automobile manufacturers have enough steel on hand to complete the 1962 models and get almost a month's start on the 1963 ears.

"On June 1 they had 60-day stockpiles totaling almost 2.1 million tons. That's nearly double the amount they carried at the same date in 1960, when car production equaled the 6.7 million units expected for 1962. Another two months' stocks are on order, waiting only for shipping releases."

The car makers are trying to get pilot lines for 1963 models started earlier than usual "so they can do a faster debugging job when production starts," Steel said, noting that the first 1963 Chevrolets were scheduled to roll off the pilot plant line in Flint, Mich., last week.

Steel said the downtrend in steel shipments is continuing. Buyers continue to defer some shipments, and June shipments from steel mills will be down about 10 per cent from May, the publication predicted.

After nine straight weeks of decline, steel output leveled off at an estimated 1,586,000 tons last week. Steel said the scrap market continued to decline. The price composite on No 1 heavy melting steel scrap dropped 34 cents last week to $24.83 a gross ton, the lowest point in eight years.

Beat Calm Retreat

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — If you're threatened by a bee, make a calm disengagement instead of a panicky retreat to avoid getting stung. That's the word from the Florida Board of Health, which also counsels you to leave off flowery - smelling perfumes and wear light-colored clothes because perfumes attract and dark clothes provoke bees. When appeasement tactics fail, douse the stung spot with calamine lotion.

You Should Have A Plan For Real Outdoor Living

PORTLAND, Ore. — The secret of pleasurable outdoor living is to keep it comfortable and simple.

If you make a project out of barbecuing a couple of hamburgers or taking a sun bath, there's no point in doing it at all, for living in the back yard should be strictly informal and absolutely impromptu.

But conversely, to achieve total comfort in outdoor living, you've got to start with a plan. The plan includes creation of a weather-controlled accessible living area plus installation of whatever furniture, storage apparatus and outdoor cooking equipment you need. In short, plan your outdoor living area like you would any room of the house. Once executed, you'll find that using it entails no extra bother.

Step One is the layout of the fresh air room. Many families have turned to the wood deck as its base because a deck can be built to the same level as interior floors and this makes it accessible for the indoors — its most important feature.

In many cases, a deck that wraps around the house on two or more sides is in order since the wrap-around deck provides an opportunity to develop several outdoor rooms.

One area adjacent to the kitchen, for example, could be roofed to serve as a special dining deck. It would be furnished accordingly and a connecting window could be remodeled to serve as a pass-through between deck and kitchen. In this manner, most of the cooking could be done indoors — which is more convenient any way — and a permanent, bricked barbecue pit could be built into the deck for those times when you really want that steak charcoal broiled.

A roofless section of the deck could be walled for privacy and serve sun bathers. Yet a third area could be planned for the "living room", reached from the indoor living room. Here, a roof might again be in order for sun control, and a balustrade could be designed with a built-in bench to offer extra seating capacity for visitors.

To keep maintenance of the deck at a minimum, build it of fir with floor planks spaced an eighth of an inch apart for water drainage. Don't paint the deck. If you do, you'll only have to repaint it at some future date — and who wants to look forward to that. Simply install the fir planks raw and let them weather.

The resulting shade of silver will be completely acceptable to the eye, whether the deck is attached to a home of traditional style with painted siding or to a contemporary house with stained siding. And when you realize that all future upkeep will consist only of an occasional hosing to clean it off, you'll like the appearance of weathered wood even better.

Create a garden atmosphere on your deck with a few pots of easy - care flowers or dwarf shrubs, but be sure your furniture has indoor - the - house comfort and durability. Those spiffy little garden chairs that collapse under a 200-pound man don't win friends.

Data Offered On Floor Tile

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

Resilient floor tiles continue to rank high on the list of best-selling do-it-yourself materials.

Their continued popularity is due to their ease of application, even by those who find other handyman chores too difficult to tackle.

Here are some facts about the better-known varieties of resilient floor tiles:

Asphalt — Low in cost and wears well. Can be used in below-ground levels and on concrete surfaces. Should not be used outdoors where there are temperature extremes. Must not be cleaned or polished with any product containing oils or solvents. Special types of asphalt tile are grease-proof.

Vinyl — Flexible and durable. Resistant to acids, grease, oil and stains. Comes in a wide variety of sparkling colors. Most manufacturers recommend occasional waxing for appearance and protection.

Rubber — Also flexible. Easy to walk on and virtually noiseless. Resistant to acids and most stains. Almost slip-proof. Should not be cleaned or polished with products containing solvents. Inclined to fade when exposed continuously to bright sunlight.

Cork — Easy to walk on. Has a luxurious appearance. Excessive use of water should be avoided. May or may not be waxed. Penetrating floor sealer sometimes recommended for easier maintenance.

Linoleum — Economical and easy to apply. Avilable in a wide range of colors and patterns. Should not be varnished or lacquered.

In laying any kind of floor tiles, you can hardly go wrong unless you disregard the manufacturer's instructions regarding the application of the adhesive.

Plumber Will Do The Best Job In Draining Pipes

Question: We have just bought a summer cottage. To prevent the trouble a neighbor of ours had last year, we want to know how to drain the water from the pipes when the summer is over.

Is this something we can do ourselves or should we hire a plumber to do it?

Answer: Many persons do the draining themselves, but there is no doubt that it is better to hire a plumber. Sometimes you think you have all the water out of the pipes, only to find out later, regretfully, that some water had not been drained.

A plumber uses a force pump to be certain all the water is out. All water in traps under fixtures must be siphoned out. Another method is to fill the traps with glycerine. This anti - freeze also should be poured into other places where water might be trapped, such as the bathroom bowl.

Question: We have flood conditions in our basement ever time there is a heavy rain. We tried using some kind of cement sealer on the inside walls, but it hasn't helped very much. I've often read about damp proofing. Can you tell me what it is?

Answer: Damp proofing is treating the outside wall of the foundation with a special asphalt or pitch coating. It can be done only after the soil has been dug away from the foundation wall or walls to be treated. It must be done professionally.

Minnesota's 'Twin Victory' Cuts Yanks' Edge To .010

Giants Take Annual June Dive, Lose Pair To St. Louis

Rollins' Hot Bat Sparks Twins; Orioles Stun New York Twice

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

There is some question regarding Rich Rollins' rookie status but no one questions the right of the sensational Minnesota third baseman to be rated among the American League's most valuable players in his first full season in the majors.

The 24-year-old bonus prize was red hot again Sunday as the Twins conquered the Chicago White Sox twice, 8-4, 11-7 to climb into a virtual first-place tie with New York. Rollins rapped five hits, drove in three runs and scored three times.

The Yankees, beaten twice by Baltimore, 5-1 and 7-2, still hold a mathematical edge over the Twins. They have a 31-21 record for a .596 percentage compared to Minnesota's 34-24 and .586.

The Los Angeles Angels swept past Detroit into fourth place by beating Kansas City twice 14-6 and 6-5 while the Tigers were losing two to Washington 2-1 and 5-4. Cleveland downed Boston 9-3 after the Red Sox had won the opener 4-3 in 11 innings.

Rollins raised his league-leading batting average to .356. He reached base six straight times before relief pitcher Ed Fisher struck him out in the sixth inning of the nightcap. He cracked two singles, walked and hit his ninth homer in the opener and then singled and drove in two runs with a triple in the nightcap.

The stocky infielder joined the Twins from Charlotte in mid-season of 1961 and made only 17 plate appearances last year.

Normally, that would qualify him as a rookie this year because he came to bat fewer than 90 times. However, he was with the club more than 45 days, the limit for rookie status the following saeson.

Home runs sparked the Orioles to their double victory at Yankee Stadium. Whitey Herzog and Russ Snyder connected in the first game in support of Milt Pappas' sixth victory. Brooks Robinson and Jackie Brandt were the four-bagger men in the second game to smooth the way for Skinny Brown's third triumph.

Homers by Joe Hicks in the first game and Chuck Hinton and Dale Long together with tight pitching by Don Rudolph and Steve Hamilton were responsible for Washington's first double-header sweep of the season. The two victories stretched the Senators' winning streak to four games.

Second baseman Billy Moran drove in six runs, three with his sixth homer, to spark the Angels to their first game triumph. Leon Wagner's sixth-inning single broke a 5-5 tie in the second game.

Cleveland left 15 men on the bases in the opener at Boston Sunday. A home run by Woodie Held and a two-run shot by John Romano in the eighth inning accounted for the Tribe runs.

Bob Tillman slammed Frank Funk's 0-1 first pitch in the 11th for a long homer to left center that ended the ball game.

Al Luplow and Jerry Kindall were the hitting stars in the Cleveland triumph, which drew the Indians to within one game of first place New York.

Kindall, who had two hits in the opener, belted a three-run homer and two singles and scored twice. Luplow, hitless in six trips in the first contest, drove in a pair of runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly and also contributed a double, a single and a walk.

Francona and Romano had homers in the second game, the sixth for Tito and 10th for the sturdy catcher.

Jim Perry 4-3 faces the Red Sox' Earl Wilson 3-1 in the wind-up of the five-game series today.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting—Rich Rollins, Twins — Rollins, reaching base six straight times, singled twice and homered in the first game, then singled and slammed a two-run triple in the second game as the Twins swept a doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox 8-4 and 11-7.

Pitching—Milt Pappas, Orioles —permitted only six hits in a route-going performance in the first game as the Orioles took two from the New York Yankees, 5-1 and 7-2.

Oakland Nine Scores Church League Win

A 10-hit attack unleashed by Oakland Free Methodist turned into a 14-8 victory over Orchard Grove Methodist Saturday in the YMCA-Church Softball League.

D. Barton, G. Kelly, K. Mort and C. Dillon had two hits apiece for the winners. Barton was the winning hurler. Butch Cunningham led Orchard Grove at the plate with three hits.

Lamp's Loft Captures 7th Old Bird Race

The loft of Richard Lamp took first and second spots in the seventh race of the old bird season Saturday from Terre Haute, Ind. The race was sponsored by the East Liverpool Racing Pigeon Club.

Pat Connor's loft was third in the race. The winning time was 9 hours, 36 minutes and 12 seconds.

The next race will be flown Sunday from Xenia.

Joe Carboni, 19, from Philadelphia, hurled a no-hitter for Cincinnati's Rocky Mount, N. C., team in the Class B Carolina League this spring. He fanned 19 Wilson batters.

WHITEY HERZOG of Baltimore is safe at home in the sixth inning of the Sunday's second game with New York at Yankee Stadium as he scores on pitcher Skinny Brown's grounder to short. Yanks' shortstop Tom Tresh bobbled the ball, then threw home too late for catcher Elston Howard to make the tag. Herzog reinjured his right leg on the play and had to be helped off the field. The Orioles won both games. (UPI Telephoto)

Littler Eyes 2nd Open Title

Gene Picks Up 1st Money At Thunderbird

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLIFTON, N.R. (AP)—Not since Ben Hogan did it in 1951 has a U.S. Open champion repeated, but Gene Littler, the sweet-swinger from San Diego, Calif., made it clear today that he is a real threat for his second straight this week at Oakmont, Pa.

"I'm pretty confident about my game," said Littler, who collected the $25,000 first prize—top payoff of the year—in the $100,000 Golf Classic Sunday. "I'm playing as well as I am capable of playing. I won't be the favorite though. I never am."

Those are strong words for Littler, an even-tempered quiet man who finally made the predictions of stardom for him stand up when he took the Open last year at Oakland Hills.

He banged out a 5 under par 67 Sunday, to come from a stroke back of Jack Nicklaus, and finish with 275, a four-day total of 13 under par on the 7,055-yard Upper Montclair Country Club course.

Nicklaus had a final-round 70 for 277. Wes Ellis and Dow Finsterwald split third with 280.

Littler's victory shot him into second spot among the pro money winners with $53,704.16, behind Arnold Palmer who has $60,331. Palmer had a poor tournament, never contending, and wound up with a 71, for 290 and $460. He spent more than that on new golf club grips during the tournament, trying to straighten out his game.

Littler, 31, never has played Oakmont, the sand-specked terror where he must defend his crown, in fact, never has seen it.

"I was in the Navy in 1953 the last time they played the Open there," he said, "and I couldn't get away. "But then I never played Upper Montclair before, either."

Sam Snead, the half-way leader, rallied from 78 in the third round to a two-under 70 to finish in a 10th place tie at 284. He made $1,900.

Law Of Averages With Pittsburgh

MILWAUKEE (AP) — After losing three doubleheaders within seven days, the Pittsburgh Pirates figured the law of averages was in their favor. So they did a turnabout and made the Milwaukee Braves their victims.

The Pirates broke out of a slump of only one victory in eight games Sunday, avenging a double setback by Milwaukee Saturday with a sweep of a doubleheader with the Braves 12-8 and 3-2.

"I think you might say we were owed these two," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh. "How many doubleheaders can a team lose in a row? Those two losses to Houston last Sunday, two to Los Angeles and then the two to the Braves really hurt."

Reminded of a statement that he was trying to put his "pitching, hitting and fielding together," Murtaugh grinned and said:

"Yeh, we did it today, but not the way I meant. I want it in every game. Luckily, we got hitting in the first game when our pitchers had a little trouble. Then in the second game we got the pitching and our fielding came through."

Bill Mazeroski drove in five runs with a pair of homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, and Dick Schoefield batted in four as Bob Friend earned his sixth victory against seven defeats.

Earl Francis allowed only five hits in eight innings of the nightcap, but needed help from Elroy Face after walking the first two batters in the Milwaukee ninth.

Fining Of Sadecki Seems To Have Awakened Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"This is what you need to get over the hump," a happy Ray Sadecki said. The hump he was talking about was mighty large.

The 21-year-old left - handed pitcher, who won few friends last week in a hassle with St. Louis Cardinal management, made the remark after he defeated the San Francisco Giants 8-4 Saturday and got his first big league homer.

"What happened during the week is in the past," he said.

Manager Johnny Keane, who had few kind words for the $50,000 bonus baby when he fined him $250, obviously felt the same way. And the fine appeared to have helped to shake the club out of its tailspin. The Red Birds, losers of eight in a row before the incident, now have seven straight victories.

"Sadecki looked like the Ray Sadecki we know him to be," Keane said. "He accepted the challenge and pitched like we know he can pitch. We need him. We always counted on him and now we know we can."

Keane fined Sadecki Tuesday night "for the poorest exhibition of effort I have ever seen on a major league diamond" after the pitcher faced five Cincinnati batters in relief and all five scored on two homers and two Sadecki errors.

Sadecki refused to come to work the next day and was suspended by General Manager Bing Devine.

All three stated their views in blunt language before they finally got together at a secret meeting and announced Sadecki was back on the job.

Lynch, Rogers Win Medalist Honors

A 6-under 66 won honors Sunday at East Palestine in the Riverview Golf League.

The team consisted of Jack Rogers, Rube Wotring, Jim Cudworth, and Cliff Beohm. Tom Lynch was medalist Sunday with a 73.

Saturday at the Taunnehauf Course at Alliance a 3-under 69 was turned in by Tom Morgan, Chuck Rogers, Chuck Heasley, Jack Woomer and Rich Ruble. Chuck Rogers won medalist honors with a 74.

The show, with proceeds going to the Cerebral Palsy fund, drew some 1,500 fans. A total of 660 dogs, representing 66 different breeds were entered.

Honors for the "Best in Show" went to Ch. Val. Knight Ranck owned by John Boehne of Youngstown. The Weimaraner holds a record of 101 best of breeds, 36 first in group and eight best in show. One of the first in group came this year at the Westminster Show in New York.

Dodgers Double Up Colts To Post 2½-Game Lead; Pirates Win Twice

By The Associated Press

As certain as death and taxes—that's a San Francisco Giants' swoon in June.

In each of their first four seasons in San Francisco, the Giants had stormed into June in or very close to first place in the National League standings only to fall flat on their faces in the month of honeymoons and traditional bliss.

This year, their fifth on the West Coast, has been no exception. They absorbed two more defeats at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday—6-5 and 13-3—extending their losing streak to six straight games.

The double defeat, coupled with Los Angeles' double triumph over Houston, by scores of 9-3 and 9-7, dropped the Giants 2½ games behind the league leading Dodgers. Only a week ago the Giants led the Dodgers two games.

The Giants' June collapse is one of those believe-it-or-nots. Take a look:

1958—The Giants were in first place on June 1, enjoying a one-game lead over Milwaukee. They lost 14 of their next 20 to drop into third place, 3½ games off the pace.

1959—The Giants were in second place, a game in back of Milwaukee on June 1. They lost 9 of their next 16 to fall two games behind.

1960—The Giants were in first place on May 30, leading Pittsburgh by one game. They lost 17 of their next 22 to skid into third place 6½ games behind.

1961—The Giants were in first place on May 29, leading Los Angles by a game and a half. They lost 8 of their next 10 to fall into third place, two games off the pace.

Pittsburgh took two games from Milwaukee 12-8 and 3-2. Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, winning the second game, 9-2, after the Phillies had won the opener, 7-5. Chicago after losing the first game, 2-1, came from behind with three runs in the ninth and one in the 10th to win the second game 5-4 from New York.

A turnaway crowd of 33,679, largest at Busch Stadium in 10 years, saw the Cardinals stretch their winning streak to seven games, which began after eight straight losses. Home runs by Curt Flood and Stan Musial highlighted the double triumph.

Don Drysdale pitched a six-hitter for his 10th victory and first baseman Ron Fairly drove in four runs with a triple, double and two singles in the Dodgers' first-game triumph over Houston. Catcher Norm Sherry batted in four runs in the nightcap, three with a home run in a six-run sixth inning. Don Buddin hit a grand slam homer for the Colts.

Andre Rodgers' run-scoring double of relief pitcher Ken McKenzie in the 10th after pinch hitter Ernie Banks' game-tying three-run homer in the ninth, gave the Cubs a split with the Mets. New York scored the tie-breaking run in the opener on a wild pitch by Dick Ellsworth in the sixth.

The Mets led 4-1 in the nightcap with two out and nobody on base in the bottom of the ninth. Then third baseman Rod Kanehl booted Dick Bertell's bounder, Bob Will walked and Banks crashed his 15th home run on an 0-2 count.

Giants Take Annual June Dive, Lose Pair To St. Louis

Rollins' Hot Bat Sparks Twins; Orioles Stun New York Twice

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

There is some question regarding Rich Rollins' rookie status but no one questions the right of the sensational Minnesota third baseman to be rated among the American League's most valuable players in his first full season in the majors.

The 24-year-old bonus prize was red hot again Sunday as the Twins conquered the Chicago White Sox twice, 8-4, 11-7 to climb into a virtual first-place tie with New York. Rollins rapped five hits, drove in three runs and scored three times.

The Yankees, beaten twice by Baltimore, 5-1 and 7-2, still hold a mathematical edge over the Twins. They have a 31-21 record for a .596 percentage compared to Minnesota's 34-24 and .586.

The Los Angeles Angels swept past Detroit into fourth place by beating Kansas City twice 14-6 and 6-5 while the Tigers were losing two to Washington 2-1 and 5-4. Cleveland downed Boston 9-3 after the Red Sox had won the opener 4-3 in 11 innings.

Rollins raised his league-leading batting average to .356. He reached base six straight times before relief pitcher Ed Fisher struck him out in the sixth inning of the nightcap. He cracked two singles, walked and hit his ninth homer in the opener and then singled and drove in two runs with a triple in the nightcap.

The stocky infielder joined the Twins from Charlotte in mid-season of 1961 and made only 17 plate appearances last year.

Normally, that would qualify him as a rookie this year because he came to bat fewer than 90 times. However, he was with the club more than 45 days, the limit for rookie status the following saeson.

Home runs sparked the Orioles to their double victory at Yankee Stadium. Whitey Herzog and Russ Snyder connected in the first game in support of Milt Pappas' sixth victory. Brooks Robinson and Jackie Brandt were the four-bagger men in the second game to smooth the way for Skinny Brown's third triumph.

Homers by Joe Hicks in the first game and Chuck Hinton and Dale Long together with tight pitching by Don Rudolph and Steve Hamilton were responsible for Washington's first double-header sweep of the season. The two victories stretched the Senators' winning streak to four games.

Second baseman Billy Moran drove in six runs, three with his sixth homer, to spark the Angels to their first game triumph. Leon Wagner's sixth-inning single broke a 5-5 tie in the second game.

Cleveland left 15 men on the bases in the opener at Boston Sunday. A home run by Woodie Held and a two-run shot by John Romano in the eighth inning accounted for the Tribe runs.

Bob Tillman slammed Frank Funk's 0-1 first pitch in the 11th for a long homer to left center that ended the ball game.

Al Luplow and Jerry Kindall were the hitting stars in the Cleveland triumph, which drew the Indians to within one game of first place New York.

Kindall, who had two hits in the opener, belted a three-run homer and two singles and scored twice. Luplow, hitless in six trips in the first contest, drove in a pair of runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly and also contributed a double, a single and a walk.

Francona and Romano had homers in the second game, the sixth for Tito and 10th for the sturdy catcher.

Jim Perry 4-3 faces the Red Sox' Earl Wilson 3-1 in the windup of the five-game series today.

Pitching—Milt Pappas, Orioles —permitted only six hits in a route-going performance in the first game as the Orioles took two from the New York Yankees, 5-1 and 7-2.

Oakland Nine Scores Church League Win

A 10-hit attack unleashed by Oakland Free Methodist turned into a 14-8 victory over Orchard Grove Methodist Saturday in the YMCA-Church Softball League.

D. Barton, G. Kelly, K. Mort and C. Dillon had two hits apiece for the winners. Barton was the winning hurler. Butch Cunningham led Orchard Grove at the plate with three hits.

WHITEY HERZOG of Baltimore is safe at home in the sixth inning of the Sunday's second game with New York at Yankee Stadium as he scores on pitcher Skinny Brown's grounder to short. Yanks' shortstop Tom Tresh bobbled the ball, then threw home too late for catcher Elston Howard to make the tag. Herzog reinjured his right leg on the play and had to be helped off the field. The Orioles won both games. (UPI Telephoto)

Dodgers Double Up Colts To Post 2½-Game Lead; Pirates Win Twice

By The Associated Press

As certain as death and taxes—that's a San Francisco Giants' swoon in June.

In each of their first four seasons in San Francisco, the Giants had stormed into June in or very close to first place in the National League standings only to fall flat on their faces in the month of honeymoons and traditional bliss.

This year, their fifth on the West Coast, has been no exception. They absorbed two more defeats at the hands of the St. Louis Cardinals Sunday—6-5 and 13-3—extending their losing streak to six straight games.

The double defeat, coupled with Los Angeles' double triumph over Houston, by scores of 9-3 and 9-7, dropped the Giants 2½ games behind the league leading Dodgers. Only a week ago the Giants led the Dodgers two games.

The Giants' June collapse is one of those believe-it-or-nots. Take a look:

1958—The Giants were in first place on June 1, enjoying a one-game lead over Milwaukee. They lost 14 of their next 20 to drop into third place, 3½ games off the pace.

1959—The Giants were in second place, a game in back of Milwaukee on June 1. They lost 9 of their next 16 to fall two games behind.

1960—The Giants were in first place on May 30, leading Pittsburgh by one game. They lost 17 of their next 22 to skid into third place 6½ games behind.

1961—The Giants were in first place on May 29, leading Los Angles by a game and a half. They lost 8 of their next 10 to fall into third place, two games off the pace.

Pittsburgh took two games from Milwaukee 12-8 and 3-2. Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, winning the second game, 9-2, after the Phillies had won the opener, 7-5. Chicago after losing the first game, 2-1, came from behind with three runs in the ninth and one in the 10th to win the second game 5-4 from New York.

A turnaway crowd of 33,679, largest at Busch Stadium in 10 years, saw the Cardinals stretch their winning streak to seven games, which began after eight straight losses. Home runs by Curt Flood and Stan Musial highlighted the double triumph.

Don Drysdale pitched a six-hitter for his 10th victory and first baseman Ron Fairly drove in four runs with a triple, double and two singles in the Dodgers' first-game triumph over Houston. Catcher Norm Sherry batted in four runs in the nightcap, three with a home run in a six-run sixth inning. Don Buddin hit a grand slam homer for the Colts.

Andre Rodgers' run-scoring double of relief pitcher Ken McKenzie in the 10th after pinch hitter Ernie Banks' game-tying three-run homer in the ninth, gave the Cubs a split with the Mets. New York scored the tie-breaking run in the opener on a wild pitch by Dick Ellsworth in the sixth.

The Mets led 4-1 in the nightcap with two out and nobody on base in the bottom of the ninth. Then third baseman Rod Kanehl booted Dick Bertell's bounder, Bob Will walked and Banks crashed his 15th home run on an 0-2 count.

Littler Eyes 2nd Open Title

Gene Picks Up 1st Money At Thunderbird

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLIFTON, N.R. (AP)—Not since Ben Hogan did it in 1951 has a U.S. Open champion repeated, but Gene Littler, the sweet-swinger from San Diego, Calif., made it clear today that he is a real threat for his second straight this week at Oakmont, Pa.

"I'm pretty confident about my game," said Littler, who collected the $25,000 first prize—top payoff of the year—in the $100,000 Golf Classic Sunday. "I'm playing as well as I am capable of playing. I won't be the favorite though. I never am."

Those are strong words for Littler, an even-tempered quiet man who finally made the predictions of stardom for him stand up when he took the Open last year at Oakland Hills.

He banged out a 5 under par 67 Sunday, to come from a stroke back of Jack Nicklaus, and finish with 275, a four-day total of 13 under par on the 7,055-yard Upper Montclair Country Club course.

Nicklaus had a final-round 70 for 277. Wes Ellis and Dow Finsterwald split third with 280.

Littler's victory shot him into second spot among the pro money winners with $53,704.16, behind Arnold Palmer who has $60,331. Palmer had a poor tournament, never contending, and wound up with a 71, for 290 and $460. He spent more than that on new golf club grips during the tournament, trying to straighten out his game.

Littler, 31, never has played Oakmont, the sand-specked terror where he must defend his crown, in fact, never has seen it.

"I was in the Navy in 1953 the last time they played the Open there," he said, "and I couldn't get away. "But then I never played Upper Montclair before, either."

Sam Snead, the half-way leader, rallied from 78 in the third round to a two-under 70 to finish in a 10th place tie at 284. He made $1,900.

Lynch, Rogers Win Medalist Honors

A 6-under 66 won honors Sunday at East Palestine in the Riverview Golf League.

The team consisted of Jack Rogers, Rube Wotring, Jim Cudworth, and Cliff Beohm. Tom Lynch was medalist Sunday with a 73.

Saturday at the Taunnehauf Course at Alliance a 3-under 69 was turned in by Tom Morgan, Chuck Rogers, Chuck Heasley, Jack Woomer and Rich Ruble. Chuck Rogers won medalist honors with a 74.

Lamp's Loft Captures 7th Old Bird Race

The loft of Richard Lamp took first and second spots in the seventh race of the old bird season Saturday from Terre Haute, Ind. The race was sponsored by the East Liverpool Racing Pigeon Club.

Pat Connor's loft was third in the race. The winning time was 9 hours, 36 minutes and 12 seconds.

The next race will be flown Sunday from Xenia.

Joe Carboni, 19, from Philadelphia, hurled a no-hitter for Cincinnati's Rocky Mount, N. C., team in the Class B Carolina League this spring. He fanned 19 Wilson batters.

Law Of Averages With Pittsburgh

MILWAUKEE (AP) — After losing three doubleheaders within seven days, the Pittsburgh Pirates figured the law of averages was in their favor. So they did a turnabout and made the Milwaukee Braves their victims.

The Pirates broke out of a slump of only one victory in eight games Sunday, avenging a double setback by Milwaukee Saturday with a sweep of a doubleheader with the Braves 12-8 and 3-2.

"I think you might say we were owed these two," said Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh. "How many doubleheaders can a team lose in a row? Those two losses to Houston last Sunday, two to Los Angeles and then the two to the Braves really hurt."

Reminded of a statement that he was trying to put his "pitching, hitting and fielding together," Murtaugh grinned and said:

"Yeh, we did it today, but not the way I meant. I want it in every game. Luckily, we got hitting in the first game when our pitchers had a little trouble. Then in the second game we got the pitching and our fielding came through."

Bill Mazeroski drove in five runs with a pair of homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, and Dick Schoefield batted in four as Bob Friend earned his sixth victory against seven defeats.

Earl Francis allowed only five hits in eight innings of the nightcap, but needed help from Elroy Face after walking the first two batters in the Milwaukee ninth.

Fining Of Sadecki Seems To Have Awakened Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"This is what you need to get over the hump," a happy Ray Sadecki said. The hump he was talking about was mighty large.

The 21-year-old left - handed pitcher, who won few friends last week in a hassle with St. Louis Cardinal management, made the remark after he defeated the San Francisco Giants 8-4 Saturday and got his first big league homer.

"What happened during the week is in the past," he said.

Manager Johnny Keane, who had few kind words for the $50,000 bonus baby when he fined him $250, obviously felt the same way. And the fine appeared to have helped to shake the club out of its tailspin. The Red Birds, losers of eight in a row before the incident, now have seven straight victories.

"Sadecki looked like the Ray Sadecki we know him to be," Keane said. "He accepted the challenge and pitched like we know he can pitch. We need him. We always counted on him and now we know we can."

Keane fined Sadecki Tuesday night "for the poorest exhibition of effort I have ever seen on a major league diamond" after the pitcher faced five Cincinnati batters in relief and all five scored on two homers and two Sadecki errors.

Sadecki refused to come to work the next day and was suspended by General Manager Bing Devine.

All three stated their views in blunt language before they finally got together at a secret meeting and announced Sadecki was back on the job.

Bucs Sign OU Star

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have signed Murray Cook, who graduated from Ohio University Sunday, to a minor league contract. Cook, 21, of Clearwater, Fla., is a right-handed pitcher and infielder.

Local Entry Takes First In Dog Show

Hil-Ray's Queen of Scots, a Scottish Terrier, owned by Mrs. Hilda G. Bigelow of Oakwood Ave., East Liverpool, was judged first in the American-bred class in the Columbiana County Kennel Club dog show held Saturday at the Saxon Country Club near Salem.

The show, with proceeds going to the Cerebral Palsy fund, drew some 1,500 fans. A total of 660 dogs, representing 66 different breeds were entered.

Honors for the "Best in Show" went to Ch. Val. Knight Ranck owned by John Boehne of Youngstown. The Weimaraner holds a record of 101 best of breeds, 36 first in group and eight best in show. One of the first in group came this year at the Westminster Show in New York.

Ashcroft, Sayre Trigger EL Merchants To 6th Win

With Rich Ashcroft, the former South Side star furnishing the power and lefty Dick Sayre spacing five hits, the East Liverpool Merchants had little trouble disposing of the Columbiana Merchants, 9-2, Sunday at Columbiana.

The victory was the sixth in as many games for Manager John Andrason's nine which leads the County - City League.

Ashcroft, home for the summer from the University of Wichita, slammed a 375-foot home run and blasted a pair of doubles in five trips to the plate.

Sayre went all the way for East Liverpool and didn't give up a run until the seventh inning. He fanned 11 batters and only walked one.

The Merchants collected 10 hits off three Columbiana hurlers.

In another league contest Negley swamped Lisbon, 12-2.

'Lugging In' Costs Big Wins For Crimson Satan

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Crimson Satan, the 1961 2-year-old champ, hasn't won a major race this year but he still could be a big factor in unscrambling the puzzle which Jaipur made of the 3-year-old title picture by winning the $153,300 Belmont Stakes.

First of all, however, Trainer George Potter must find what causes the Crimson King Farm's ace to lug in when he hooks up with other horses in a stretch battle such as developed in the final eighth of a mile last Saturday at Belmont Park.

With an eighth of a mile of the 1½-mile test remaining, Manuel Ycaza drove Crimson Satan to almost even terms with Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage. Admiral's Voyage, who had set nearly all the early pace, was on the rail, Crimson Satan on the outside.

Suddenly Satan lugged in and bumped Jaipur. Like a shot, Jaipur took off again but Admiral's Voyage answered the challenge with one of his own. As they reached the finish line, Willie Shoemaker dropped Jaipur's head in front to take the winner's share of $109,550 and give owner George D. Widener his first Belmont Stakes winner after 10 failures. Crimson Satan was 1¼ lengths back in third place.

Crimson Satan's tendency to bear in previously had cost him the $130,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park on Memorial Day. He came from behind to finish ahead of Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage but lugged in and was disqualified. Jaipur was moved into first place and Admiral's Voyage awarded second.

"I've about come to the conclusion it is something in his head that makes him duck in," said Potter before shipping Crimson Satan to Monmouth Park at Oceanport, N.J. "I can't find what is hurting him. Perhaps there is a mental block. He doesn't do it until he hooks up with other horses in the stretch."

Moore Tosses First No-Hit Game In Little-Minor Loop

Young Jim Moore reared back and fired the first no-hitter of the Little - Minor League season when T.S.&T. walloped First National, 15-1, Saturday.

On his way to pitching the no-hitter Moore fanned 16 batters. He received ample support from his teammates who collected 11 hits and took advantage of six errors by First National.

Bill Muller's four hits and three RBI's and Jerry Badgley's three hits, including two doubles and 4 RBI's, paced T.S.&T. at the plate.

Cornell's edged Potters Bank & Trust 12-11 with Bob Moore's two doubles and single leading the attack. Chuck Wright was the winning hurler. Kevin Mack socked a double and two singles for the losers.

3 County Youths Face Charge Of Gas Theft

LISBON — Three Columbiana County youths are expected to have a hearing today before County Judge Herbert Arfman in East Palestine on charges of stealing gasoline from heavy construction equipment on Route 46 just outside of New Waterford.

George Elmer Heaton, 19, of Box 242, New Waterford, and Donald Lee Burson, 20, and his brother, John Paul Burson, 18, of Rogers R. D. 1 were apprehended by sheriff's deputies after the youths were surprised by Marshal Walter Taylor while allegedly siphoning gasoline out of the equipment.

Authorities said the suspects fled but were apprehended later after a license check on the car they drove away.

Bilingual Children Prove To Be Smarter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — What relation, if any, does the knowledge of more than one language have to intelligence?

Two McGill University psychologists say they are pondering this question after studies in which bilingual children scored significantly higher in both verbal and nonverbal intelligence tests than children knowing only one language.

The tests were given to Montreal school children of the same age and socio-economic level, Elizabeth Peal and Wallace E. Lambert reported at a convention of psychologists here.

Lady, You Are Fooled, It As Bus—A Compact

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Key West recently started using compact 15-passenger buses on some of its less heavily patronized city ruotes.

A driver pulled up to a stop the first week the little buses were in operation and got an icy glare from a woman who thought she was the object of a pick-up attempt.

"That's not a bus, young man," she snapped at the driver. "Don't try to fool me!"

Farmer, Basketball Fan Has Team Spirit

YODER, Wyo. (AP) — Douglas Essert is a Yoder farmer and basketball fan. Or is it vice versa?

He inserted the following ad in the Scottsbluff, Neb., Star-Herald:

"Wanted, man with high school age son 6 feet or over, interested in basketball. Man must know cattle, irrigation, general farm work."

Essert didn't land either his basketball player or farm help, so he inserted a new ad:

"Wanted, farm man with beautiful high school daughter who will attract basketball player to Yoder High. Man must know cattle, irrigation, general farm work."

Midland Motorist Driving Ghost Of Car

A Midland motorist, driving a 1949 auto with one door off, no foot brake, no top, windshield shattered and no rear lights, was cited by Chester police Thursday for operating an "unsafe" vehicle and ordered to have it towed out of town.

Robert Burel Skinner, 23, was also charged with driving without a valid license by Patrolman Clarence Lennens, who said Skinner was using an Ohio operator's permit although he had resided in Midland eight months.

Skinner posted a $15.50 bond on the unsafe vehicle charge and $30.50 bond for the other citation, and is slated for a hearing tonight before Mayor Ray Collina. He was arrested Thursday morning on Carolina Ave.

Ashcroft, Sayre Trigger EL Merchants To 6th Win

With Rich Ashcroft, the former South Side star furnishing the power and lefty Dick Sayre spacing five hits, the East Liverpool Merchants had little trouble disposing of the Columbiana Merchants, 9-2, Sunday at Columbiana.

The victory was the sixth in as many games for Manager John Andrason's nine which leads the County - City League.

Ashcroft, home for the summer from the University of Wichita, slammed a 375-foot home run and blasted a pair of doubles in five trips to the plate.

Sayre went all the way for East Liverpool and didn't give up a run until the seventh inning. He fanned 11 batters and only walked one.

The Merchants collected 10 hits off three Columbiana hurlers.

In another league contest Negley swamped Lisbon, 12-2.

East Liverpool meets East Palestine Wednesday at Patterson Field, beginning at 6 p. m.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — A guest at a Louisville hotel suffered a pain in the stomach recently and called the desk to ask if there was a doctor in the house. "Anyone in particular?" the clerk asked. 'Lugging In' Costs Big Wins For Crimson Satan

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Crimson Satan, the 1961 2-year-old champ, hasn't won a major race this year but he still could be a big factor in unscrambling the puzzle which Jaipur made of the 3-year-old title picture by winning the $153,300 Belmont Stakes.

First of all, however, Trainer George Potter must find what causes the Crimson King Farm's ace to lug in when he hooks up with other horses in a stretch battle such as developed in the final eighth of a mile last Saturday at Belmont Park.

With an eighth of a mile of the 1½-mile test remaining, Manuel Ycaza drove Crimson Satan to almost even terms with Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage. Admiral's Voyage, who had set nearly all the early pace, was on the rail, Crimson Satan on the outside.

Suddenly Satan lugged in and bumped Jaipur. Like a shot, Jaipur took off again but Admiral's Voyage answered the challenge with one of his own. As they reached the finish line, Willie Shoemaker dropped Jaipur's head in front to take the winner's share of $109,550 and give owner George D. Widener his first Belmont Stakes winner after 10 failures. Crimson Satan was 1¼ lengths back in third place.

Crimson Satan's tendency to bear in previously had cost him the $130,700 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park on Memorial Day. He came from behind to finish ahead of Jaipur and Admiral's Voyage but lugged in and was disqualified. Jaipur was moved into first place and Admiral's Voyage awarded second.

"I've about come to the conclusion it is something in his head that makes him duck in," said Potter before shipping Crimson Satan to Monmouth Park at Oceanport, N.J. "I can't find what is hurting him. Perhaps there is a mental block. He doesn't do it until he hooks up with other horses in the stretch."

3 County Youths Face Charge Of Gas Theft

LISBON — Three Columbiana County youths are expected to have a hearing today before County Judge Herbert Arfman in East Palestine on charges of stealing gasoline from heavy construction equipment on Route 46 just outside of New Waterford.

George Elmer Heaton, 19, of Box 242, New Waterford, and Donald Lee Burson, 20, and his brother, John Paul Burson, 18, of Rogers R. D. 1 were apprehended by sheriff's deputies after the youths were surprised by Marshal Walter Taylor while allegedly siphoning gasoline out of the equipment.

Authorities said the suspects fled but were apprehended later after a license check on the car they drove away.

Bilingual Children Prove To Be Smarter

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — What relation, if any, does the knowledge of more than one language have to intelligence?

Two McGill University psychologists say they are pondering this question after studies in which bilingual children scored significantly higher in both verbal and nonverbal intelligence tests than children knowing only one language.

The tests were given to Montreal school children of the same age and socio-economic level, Elizabeth Peal and Wallace E. Lambert reported at a convention of psychologists here.

Lady, You Are Fooled, It As Bus—A Compact

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Key West recently started using compact 15-passenger buses on some of its less heavily patronized city ruotes.

A driver pulled up to a stop the first week the little buses were in operation and got an icy glare from a woman who thought she was the object of a pick-up attempt.

"That's not a bus, young man," she snapped at the driver. "Don't try to fool me!"

Midland Motorist Driving Ghost Of Car

A Midland motorist, driving a 1949 auto with one door off, no foot brake, no top, windshield shattered and no rear lights, was cited by Chester police Thursday for operating an "unsafe" vehicle and ordered to have it towed out of town.

Robert Burel Skinner, 23, was also charged with driving without a valid license by Patrolman Clarence Lennens, who said Skinner was using an Ohio operator's permit although he had resided in Midland eight months.

Skinner posted a $15.50 bond on the unsafe vehicle charge and $30.50 bond for the other citation, and is slated for a hearing tonight before Mayor Ray Collina. He was arrested Thursday morning on Carolina Ave.

QUESTION: How do we talk?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: We can talk because we have violins inside our throats — or at least something like them. A violin is a closed box with two "f"-shaped openings through which the sound comes. Strings stretched tightly across the box vibrate when a bow with horse hair is drawn across them. Placing the fingertips on the neck of the violin shortens the strings so that their vibrations are changed, producing different notes. In our throats we also have a little sound box, the larynx (see picture.) Wind from the windpipe can be made to vibrate two bands of elastic tissue inside the box. When we breathe, we relax these strings, but when we want to speak or sing we tighten them. For high notes, we tighten them more. The sound is made louder by being amplified in the throat as it is amplified in the violin body. By changing the position of lips and tongue and opening or closing our mouths we can change the sounds coming from the larynx into the different sounds of the letters, and this allows us to speak.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Look in a mirror and watch your lips. Slowly pronounce the vowels "a, e,i,o,u." See how your lips change position. Now try consonants. People who cannot hear can be trained to read speech by lip-reading. Can you learn to read lips?

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: If the emergency arises for that small sewing job and all you have is white thread using a crayola (any color you happen to need) and pulling the crayon down the length of the thread once or twice. It will color the white thread.

Here's a time saver for a real drag: dishes! Try using a plastic dishpan instead of a tray when clearing off the table. Wonderful. There is no danger of overturning the overloaded dishpan and it is a simple operation to add the detergent and water to the dishpan after carrying it back to the sink in the kitchen. Saves transfering the dishes twice.

I am sure you have all heard the old trick of putting a loud ticking clock in bed with a fussy puppy. Well . . . I tried it with my fussy baby and it really helped. The only trouble was that I forgot to turn off the alarm! My own absentmindedness. I must admit it was a little hectic when it went off.

Ham Baked

DEAR HELOISE:

Do women know that a large piece of foil fitted loosely over a ham that is being baked in the oven will save lots of work when cleaning the oven?

Most of the spatters are caught in the foil, the ham is not dried out at all . . making far juicier slices of ham.

A grateful toast to this column for all that it does to boost my moral.

MARION VUGTEVEEN

DEAR HELOISE:

Any Suggestions

DEAR HELOISE:

Please tell us how to clean kid gloves. Surely there is a home method.

JANET FULLER

Take it from me. I just ruined four pairs trying home methods. Let's wait and let our readers answer us. Anyone really been successful cleaning their own white kid gloves?

In my opinion this is a professional job.

My conclusion was to buy good white cotton or fabric gloves. This is all I own now. I put them in the washing machine weekly with the sheets and white clothes.

If anyone has a better answer . . . this column is open. Write to Heloise, in care of The Review.

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

I always tuck a plastic bag in my diaper bag for soiled diapers. This keeps odors from spreading. Also it keeps the dampness from getting on other articles.
